

Jeffery Morse <jefferymservices@gmail.com>

invoices.

1 message

Jeffery Morse <jefferymservices@gmail.com>

Fri, Sep 27, 2013 at 8:17 PM

To: Mike Tolinger <trolingergang@gmail.com>

here are the invoices for the two repairs.. i really did try to take it easy on you, so there are two, one for the main water line, the part that goes under the driveway still needs to be done, you can use an under wonder for that as we talked about on the phone. or later after in a week or two i can do it. the second is the shower pipes that broke under the trailer, that pex stuff again, the good news is i think we have replaced every corner now. any way after fighting off the black widows we were able to abate the insulation and repair the pipes, however, the floor really took on alot of water, i recomend letting it are dry for a couple weeks and then i will go in and staple the plastic up and , put the skirting back on. if you choose to do that while your here please deduct $65 from the total on that invoice.... thanks for your business, and hey just think what roto rooter would have charged.. like 10 grand... ok give me a call when your in town so i can get paid. thanks

2 attachmentsInvoice_18_2013-09-27water pipe.pdf

61K

Invoice_19_2013-09-27shower pipes.pdf

62K