

Quiz name: Concise History of Western Music, 4e
Chapter Number: 15

Question: The string quartet was primarily intended for:
Correct answer is: d) performance in a domestic setting

Question: Symphonies that featured pleasant lyricism, good humor, and contrasting first-movement theme groups were characteristic of composers working in:
Correct answer is: d) Vienna

Question: Which of the following composers published a collection of thirty harpsichord sonatas titled Essercizi in 1788?
Correct answer is: b) Domenico Scarlatti

Question: Among the first composers to write piano concertos was:
Correct answer is: c) Johann Christian Bach

Question: The first composer to consistently use the four-movement plan in symphonic writing was:
Correct answer is: d) Johann Stamitz

Question: A type of binary form that highlights the return of the tonic in the second section by repeating the material that opened the first section is called:
Correct answer is: c) rounded binary

Question: What city's orchestra was renowned for its unprecedented dynamic range and its employment of frequent crescendos?
Correct answer is: c) Mannheim

Question: In Heinrich Christoph Koch's Introductory Essay on Composition, he describes sonata form as:
Correct answer is: a) an expanded version of binary form

Question: At the conclusion of a cadenza, the soloist cues the orchestra by playing:
Correct answer is: b) a long trill over the dominant chord

Question: The wind instrument most commonly played by amateurs was the:
Correct answer is: d) flute

Question: The most common form for the first movement of an eighteenth-century sonata, chamber work, or symphony is:
Correct answer is: b) sonata

Question: Binary form in which the two sections are roughly equal in length and feature musical material that is different or loosely related is called:

Correct answer is: a) simple binary

Question: The clarinet was invented around:

Correct answer is: a) 1710

Question: The major orchestral genre of the mid- to late-eighteenth century was the:

Correct answer is: c) symphony

Question: In the sonata form's recapitulation, the material of the exposition is restated in the original order with all themes in the:

Correct answer is: d) tonic