ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Elizabeth E. Guzmán is the Director of the Elementary and Intermediate Spanish Language Program at the University of Iowa. Previously, she served as Language Coordinator at St. John's University/College of St. Benedict, Director of the Spanish Program at Yale University, and Coordinator and Co-Director of the Elementary and Intermediate Language Program at The University of Michigan. In her native Chile, she supervised instructors of English as a Foreign Language. Ms. Guzmán received her B.A. in English from Universidad de Santiago (Chile) and her M.A. in English as a Second Language from West Virginia University, and then pursued doctoral studies at the University of Pittsburgh. She is a co-author of Prentice-Hall's Identidades and several earlier editions of Mosaicos.

Paloma Lapuerta holds the title of Professor of Spanish at Central Connecticut State University, where she teaches courses in Spanish language, culture, and literature. She has over twenty years of teaching experience at higher institutions around the world, including Spain, Switzerland, South Africa, and the United States, where she has taught at the University of Michigan, Dartmouth College, and the Middlebury College Spanish School. She completed her Licenciatura in Spanish Philology at the University of Salamanca, and she holds a Ph.D. in Spanish literature from the University of Geneva, Switzerland. She has published numerous articles and a book on Spanish culture and literature. She is a co-author of Identidades, La escritura paso a paso, and earlier editions of Mosaicos, all published by Prentice Hall.

Judith E. Liskin-Gasparro is a professor of Spanish at the University of Iowa, where she teaches courses in second language acquisition, pedagogy, and Spanish language. She is the co-director of FLARE (Foreign Language Acquisition Research and Education), which offers an interdisciplinary doctoral program in Second Language Acquisition, and she was formerly the Director of the Elementary and Intermediate Spanish Language Program. Previously, she taught at Middlebury College and worked as a test development consultant at Educational Testing Service. She received her B.A. in Spanish from Bryn Mawr College, her M.A. from Princeton University, and her Ph.D. in Foreign Language Education from the University of Texas at Austin. She has published articles and books on language learning and teaching and has led many workshops for language teachers. She is a co-author of Identidades, published by Prentice Hall.

PREFACE

Welcome to the Fifth Edition of Mosaicos

Since the publication of its first edition more than a decade ago, Mosaicos has been widely acclaimed for its practical, communicative, culturally based approach to first-year Spanish. The approach has been refined over the course of several editions, and for this fifth edition we have been especially thorough in examining all aspects of the Student Text and all components of the Mosaicos program. The result is a fresh, twenty-first-century perspective on language teaching and learning in the context of a dynamic introduction to the Hispanic world and its people. We hope that both veteran users and those new to Mosaicos will discover a text that is richly contextualized, cognitively engaging, visually attractive, and readily accessible, accompanied by a wide array of resources that support student learning and make each class period valuable and enjoyable.

One of the hallmarks of the Mosaicos approach—and the rationale for the title—is the emphasis on the integration of the many different instructional strands that comprise a beginning Spanish course. We have made a special effort to ensure that this fifth edition effectively integrates elements that other programs often treat in isolation. We have gone farther than ever before in our effort to synthesize linguistic content with appropriate cultural contexts. We have refined and improved the open-ended Situaciones activities, in which students are asked to integrate their knowledge of grammatical structures and functions with thematically relevant vocabulary. Finally, we have made major revisions to the Mosaicos section of each chapter, in which students put linguistic and cultural knowledge together as they develop and practice their listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills.

Mosaicos reflects the wisdom and experience of the many expert language instructors who have used the program and have provided helpful suggestions over the years. But at a deeper level, it is grounded in current theories of language learning and in pedagogical principles embraced by most language instructors today. It presents vocabulary within communicative and cultural contexts. Its grammar sections move from meaning to form, providing an understanding of the language that is both functional and structural. It emphasizes the social aspects of language use by providing an abundance of carefully sequenced pair and group activities. It fosters awareness of the diversity of the Spanish-speaking world through photos, realia, maps, readings, and activities, as well as a new video program. By engaging students in the linguistic, cognitive, and social aspects of language learning, the distinctive Mosaicos approach draws on current knowledge about language learning to prepare first-year students to continue their study of Spanish language and culture at the intermediate level.

Highlights of the Fifth Edition

While building on the strengths of earlier editions, the fifth edition of Mosaicos incorporates many new and remarkable features. With its focus on learning strategies and communicative functions, it provides students and instructors with more tools than ever before to enhance and enrich the learning experience.

Vocabulary in Context

The Mosaicos program features a culturally and communicatively rich format for presenting and practicing new vocabulary. Through the two-page spread at the beginning of each chapter and in the A primera vista section that follows, students encounter new words in appropriate linguistic and cultural contexts.

The chapter-opening pages have been completely redesigned to provide a stimulating introduction both to the chapter theme and to the country or region that the chapter targets. New chapter titles highlight the text's active, functional approach to language learning, and abundant annotations on the chapter-opening pages guide instructors in introducing and recycling relevant vocabulary.

In the A primera vista section, new vocabulary is presented in contexts that reflect the chapter theme in various ways. Language samples, photos, line drawings, and realia are used to present new material, rather than word lists and translations. The activities that follow foster the use of new and previously learned vocabulary in natural, thematically relevant contexts. Special features include the following:

- Boldface type is used within the language samples to highlight new words and phrases that students will need to learn to use actively. (A convenient list of these words and phrases is provided at the end of each chapter.)
- Audio icons remind students that recorded versions of the language samples are available in the Mosaicos audio program.
- Cultura boxes (many new to this edition) raise awareness of the cultural contexts in which the language is used and help students learn the skills of close observation and interpretation of cultural products.
- En otras palabras boxes (all new to this edition) give examples of regional variations in the language.

Grammar as Function and Meaning

In the newly renamed Funciones y formas section of each chapter, grammar is presented as a means to effective communication. The bulleted explanations—clear, concise, and easy to understand—are designed to be studied at home, although their integration into the main body of the text enables students to use them for quick reference as they practice communication in class.

- Visuals and brief language samples are now used consistently to introduce new structures in meaningful contexts. The new structures are highlighted in boldface type.
- Short comprehension-based activities (all new to this edition) draw students' attention to the connection between meaning and linguistic form, providing a bridge from función to forma. These Piénselo activities are designed to help students develop their ability to think about how each structure communicates meaning by means of particular forms.
- A carefully designed sequence of communicative activities (many new or revised for this edition) follow the bulleted grammatical explanations. These activities focus attention on the communicative purpose of the linguistic structures while invoking culturally relevant contexts. All activities require students to process meaning as well as form so that they develop confidence in speaking and skill in using their linguistic knowledge to gather information, answer questions, and resolve problems.
- A large number of open-ended Situaciones activities (many new or revised for this edition) prompt students to integrate relevant grammatical structures with contexts drawn from the chapter theme. Two Situaciones role-plays are now provided for each grammar topic, and the format of these activities has been standardized so that there are always two roles (Role A and Role B). En directo boxes introduce colloquial expressions and encourage students to use them in the Situaciones and other communicative activities.
- Strategically placed Lengua boxes offer succinct grammatical information when it is needed to support self-expression.
- The grammatical scope and sequence has been modified in order to meet the communicative needs of beginning students more effectively. The Algo más boxes used in the fourth edition to present new structures have been eliminated; all essential structures are now given the full range of explanation and activities. Major topics, such as the preterit and imperfect, ser/estar, and object pronouns, are recycled to enhance learning, and basic topics such as regular verbs and gustar are presented earlier to spread essential structures more evenly over the book's fifteen chapters.

Integrated Culture

The fifth edition of Mosaicos builds on the successful integration of culture and language of previous editions. Each chapter focuses on a specific country or region, and numerous references to that country or region appear in the chapter's language samples, photos, maps, and realia. Related cultural content is interwoven throughout the activities and readings.

- A newly designed two-page chapter opener highlights the country or region that is the focus of the chapter. It includes a relevant work of art as well as maps and photos. A new warm-up activity (called A vista de pájaro) encourages students to process the visually presented information while accessing relevant prior knowledge. Numerous annotations offer instructors factual, conversational, and linguistic suggestions to pique students' interest and ease them into the chapter.
- The Enfoque cultural section of each chapter has new readings and accompanying activities. The first set of activities is available online as well as in the textbook. A final activity asks students to use the reading as a point of departure for expanding and sharing their knowledge. The standardized format of this section makes it possible for students to work with the readings independently so that class time may be devoted to the cultural content.
- Brief Cultura boxes found throughout each chapter explain cultural products, practices, and perspectives, making the cultural contexts of the vocabulary and grammatical activities meaningful and accessible to students.

Engaging New Video

A completely new video, entitled Diarios de bicicleta, has been scripted and filmed specifically to accompany the fifth edition of Mosaicos. Each episode of this engaging, often humorous video reflects the corresponding chapter's communicative objectives, recycling vocabulary and previewing functions and forms. The story line revolves around four recurring characters, but each episode is self-contained and independent of other episodes.

- The video segment for each chapter includes short excerpts that highlight the language functions introduced in the Funciones y formas section of the text.
- Pre-viewing, viewing, and post-viewing activities (all new to this edition) are provided in the Student Text in a special section of each chapter entitled En acción. Additional activities may be found in the Student Activities Manual.

A Four-Skills Synthesis

Like its predecessors, the fifth edition devotes a prominent section of each chapter to the development and practice of communication skills. These newly streamlined Mosaicos sections provide students with a unique opportunity to bring together the chapter's thematic content and vocabulary with its linguistic structures and cultural focus. New features, texts, and activities enhance the effectiveness of this aspect of the program.

- Specific strategies are now presented in each chapter for each of the four skills (listening, speaking, reading, and writing). The strategies build on each other within and across chapters. Activities are designed so that students systematically practice implementing the strategies presented.
- New listening activities have been created for the A escuchar sections. The content and genre of the listening texts, as well as the accompanying strategies, consistently support the chapter theme.
- In the A conversar sections, specific strategies are now provided for speaking as they are for other skill areas. The speaking activities that follow encourage structured pair interaction and help students develop interpersonal speaking skills.
- The streamlined A leer sections now include only one reading each. The reading selections (many new to this edition) are drawn largely from authentic texts. They reflect a variety of discourse types, ranging from expository to journalistic to literary. Activities linked to the reading strategy boost students' comprehension and reading skills.
- The process writing activities in the A escribir sections have been revised so that the pre- and post-writing activities now guide students through critical steps in the writing process. Where possible, these activities refer students back to the immediately preceding reading, deepening students' comprehension and awareness of text structure.

Informed by National Standards

The Standards for Foreign Language Learning: Preparing for the 21st Century, whose five goal areas have served as an organizing principle for language instruction for more than a decade, inform the pedagogy of the fifth edition of Mosaicos. Marginal notes throughout the Annotated Instructor's Edition draw attention to the way specific activities or other elements of the program help students develop proficiency in the five goal areas. A number of general strategies have been followed.

Communication. Students are prompted to engage in meaningful conversations throughout the text, providing and obtaining information, expressing their opinions and preferences, and sharing their experiences. Readings and listening activities invite them to interpret language on a variety of topics, while presentaciones and writing assignments call on them to present information and ideas in both written and oral modes.

Cultures. Many features of the text, including the maps, photos, Cultura boxes, and the readings in the Mosaicos and Enfoque cultural sections of each chapter, give students an understanding of the relationship between culture and language throughout the Spanish-speaking world.

Connections. Realia, readings, the Enfoque cultural application activities, and conversation activities throughout the text provide opportunities to make connections with other disciplines. Students gain information and insight into the distinctive viewpoints of Spanish speakers and their cultures.

Comparisons. Lengua and En otras palabras boxes often provide students with points of comparison between English and Spanish (and among the varieties of Spanish spoken in different parts of the world). Readings and activities frequently juxtapose U.S. and Hispanic cultural products, practices, and perspectives.

Communities. The text encourages students to extend their learning through guided research on the Internet and/or other sources, and many of the topics explored in Mosaicos can stimulate exploration, personal enjoyment, and enrichment beyond the confines of formal language instruction. Instructors are reminded to encourage students to become acquainted with Spanish-speaking communities in their areas.

The Complete Program

Mosaicos is a complete teaching and learning program that includes a variety of resources for students and instructors, including an innovative offering of online resources.

For the student

Student Text

The Mosaicos Student Text is available in a complete, hardbound version, consisting of a preliminary chapter followed by Chapters 1 through 15. New to this edition is the option of three paperback volumes rather than the single hardcover version. Volume 1 of the paperback series contains the preliminary chapter plus Chapters 1 to 5; Volume 2, Chapters 5 to 10; and Volume 3, Chapters 10 to 15. All three volumes include the complete front and back matter.

Student Activities Manual

The Student Activities Manual (SAM), thoroughly revised for this edition, includes workbook activities together with audio- and video-based activities, all designed to provide extensive practice of the vocabulary, grammar, culture, and skills introduced in each chapter. The organization of these materials now parallels that of the student text, with an A primera vista section followed by En acción video activities, Funciones y formas, Mosaicos, and Enfoque cultural. A new section in each chapter (entitled Repaso) provides additional activities designed to help students review the material of the chapter as well as to prepare for tests.

The printed Student Activities Manual is available both in a single volume and in a series of separate volumes, paralleling the paperback volumes of the student text. The contents of the Student Activities Manual and MySpanishLab are also available online.

Answer Key to Accompany Student Activities Manual

An Answer Key to the Student Activities Manual is available separately, giving instructors the option of allowing students to check their homework. The Answer Key now includes answers to all SAM activities.

Supplementary Activities Book

Also available is a Supplementary Activities Book consisting of a range of fun, engaging activities that complement the vocabulary and grammar themes of each chapter. It offers instructors additional materials that can serve to energize and enrich their students' classroom experience.

Audio CDs to Accompany Student Text

A set of audio CDs contains recordings of the A primera vista language samples and the end-of-chapter vocabulary lists. It also contains audio material for listening activities included in the student text. These recordings are also available online.

Audio CDs to Accompany Student Activities Manual

A second set of audio CDs contains audio material for the listening activities in the Student Activities Manual. These recordings are also available online.

Video on DVD

Diarios de bicicleta is an original video filmed to accompany the fifth edition of Mosaicos. Students see the vocabulary and grammar structures of each chapter in use in realistic situations while gaining a deeper understanding of Hispanic cultures. The video also includes segments highlighting the communicative functions of each chapter. Pre-viewing, viewing, and post-viewing activities are found in the En acción sections of the textbook and the Student Activities Manual. The video is available for student purchase on DVD, and it is also available within MySpanishLab.

Meet the Cast

Here are the main characters of Diarios de bicicleta, who you will get to know when you watch the video:

Javier

Luciana

Daniel

Gaby

In addition to Diarios de bicicleta, two other videos are available for use in conjunction with the Mosaicos program. Entrevistas consists of interviews in which native speakers use authentic Spanish to address topics related to each chapter's theme. Vistas culturales contains nineteen 10-minute vignettes with footage from every Spanish-speaking country. Each of the accompanying narrations, which employ vocabulary and grammar designed for first-year language learners, was written by a native of the featured country or region. All three videos are also available online.

Online resources

MySpanishLab™

MySpanishLab is a new, nationally hosted online learning system created for students in college-level language courses. It brings together—in one convenient, easily navigable site—a wide array of language-learning tools and resources, including an interactive version of the Mosaicos Student Activities Manual, an electronic version of the Mosaicos student text, and all materials from the Mosaicos audio and video programs. Readiness checks, chapter tests, and tutorials personalize instruction to meet the unique needs of individual students. Instructors can use the system to make assignments, set grading parameters, listen to student-created audio recordings, and provide feedback on student work. Instructor access is provided at no charge. Students can purchase access codes online or at their local bookstore.

Companion Website

The open-access Companion Website (www.pearsonhighered.com/mosaicos) includes an array of activities and resources designed to reinforce the vocabulary, grammar, and cultural material introduced in each chapter. It also provides audio recordings for the student text and Student Activities Manual, links for Internet-based activites in the student text, and additional web exploration activities for each chapter. All contents of the Companion Website are also included in MySpanishLab.

Acknowledgments

Mosaicos is the result of a collaborative effort among the authors, our publisher, and our colleagues. We are especially indebted to many members of the Spanish teaching community for their time, candor, and insightful suggestions as they reviewed the drafts of the fifth edition of Mosaicos. Their critiques and recommendations helped us to sharpen our pedagogical focus and improve the overall quality of the program. We gratefully acknowledge the contributions of the following reviewers:

We are also grateful for the guidance of Elizabeth Lantz, development editor, for all of her work, suggestions, attention to detail, and dedication to the text. Her support and spirit helped us to achieve the final product. Special thanks are due to Celia Meana, development editor, for helping with the art program, with the final pages, and with many other editorial details. We would also like to thank the contributors who assisted us in the preparation of the fifth edition: Daria Cohen, Marisol del Teso Cravotto, Juliet Falce-Robinson, Linda Keown, Gustavo Mejía, Teresa Pérez-Gamboa, Anne Prucha, and Lilián Uribe. Special thanks to Ninon Larché and Debbie King for their assistance in the preparation of the manuscript. We are very grateful to other colleagues and friends at Prentice Hall: Meriel Martínez, Media Editor, for helping us produce such a great video, audio programs, and Companion Website; Melissa Marolla Brown, Development Editor for Assessment, for the diligent coordination among the text, Student Activities Manual, and Testing Program; Samantha Alducin, Senior Media Editor, for managing the creation of Mosaicos materials for My SpanishLab™; and Jenn Murphy, Assistant Editor/Editorial Coordinator, for her work in managing the preparation of the other supplements. Thanks to Katie Spiegel, Editorial Assistant, for her hard work and efficiency in obtaining reviews and attending to many administrative details.

We are very grateful to our marketing team, Kris Ellis-Levy, Denise Miller, and Bill Bliss, for their creativity and efforts in coordinating all marketing and promotion for this edition. Thanks, too, to our production team, Mary Rottino, Janice Stangel, and Manuel Echevarria, who guided Mosaicos through the many stages of production; to our partners at Macmillan Publishing Solutions, especially Jill Traut, for her careful and professional editing and production services. We also thank our art team, Gail Cocker, Peter Bull, and Andrew Lange, for their amazing creativity and beautiful maps and illustrations. Special thanks to Leslie Osher, John Christina, and Ximena Tamvakopoulos for the gorgeous interior and cover designs. Finally, we would like to express our sincere thanks to Phil Miller, Publisher, and Julia Caballero, Executive Editor, for their guidance and support through every aspect of this new edition.

CAPÍTULO

Preliminar

Bienvenidos

El mundo hispano les da la bienvenida.

In this chapter you will learn how to:

- introduce yourself, greet others, and say good-bye
- use expressions of courtesy
- spell in Spanish
- identify people and classroom objects
- locate people and things
- use numbers from 0–99
- express dates
- tell time
- use classroom expressions
- comment on the weather

Personas que hablan español (en millones)

A vista de pájaro. Relying on your knowledge of the world, look at the map and determine whether each statement is true (Cierto) or false (Falso).

1. Más de (More than) 350 millones de personas hablan español en el mundo.
2. En Filipinas no se habla español.
3. En Estados Unidos hablan español más personas que (more ... than) en Chile.
4. En Guinea Ecuatorial se habla español.
5. En Brasil se habla portugués.
6. El español se habla en 23 países.

Las presentaciones

CD 1

Track 1

ANTONIO: Me llamo Antonio Mendoza.
Y tú, ¿cómo te llamas?

BENITO: Me llamo Benito Sánchez.
ANTONIO: Mucho gusto.
BENITO: Igualmente.

LAURA: María, mi amigo José.
MARÍA: Mucho gusto.
JOSÉ: Encantado.

PROFESOR: ¿Cómo se llama usted?

ISABEL: Me llamo Isabel Contreras.

PROFESOR: Mucho gusto.

- Spanish has more than one word meaning you. Use tú when talking to someone on a first-name basis (a child, close friend, or relative).
Use usted when talking to someone you address in a respectful or formal manner; for example, doctor/doctora; profesor/profesora; señor/señora. Also use usted to address individuals you do not know well.
- Young people normally use tú when speaking to each other.
- Mucho gusto is used by both men and women when they are meeting someone for the first time. A man may also say encantado, and a woman, encantada.
- You may respond to mucho gusto with either encantado/a or igualmente.

P-1 Presentaciones. PRIMERA FASE. Complete the following conversation with the appropriate expressions from the box on the right.

ALICIA: Me llamo Alicia. Y tú, ¿cómo te llamas?
ISABEL: Isabel Pérez. mucho gusto
ALICIA: igualmente.
ALICIA: Isabel, mi amigo
ISABEL: Mucho gusto.
PEDRO: encantado.

Igualmente
Mucho gusto
Encantado
mi amigo Pedro

SEGUNDA FASE: Move around the classroom, introducing yourself to several classmates and introducing classmates to each other.

Los saludos y las despedidas

Los saludos

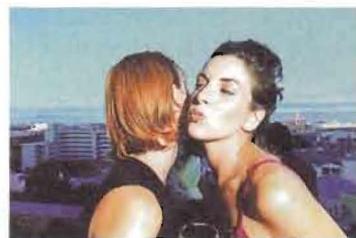

SEÑOR: Buenos días, señorita Rivas.

CD 1 Track 2 SEÑORITA: Buenos días. ¿Cómo está usted, señor Gómez?

SEÑOR: Bien, gracias. ¿Y usted?

SEÑORITA: Muy bien, gracias.

SEÑORA: Buenas tardes, Felipe.
¿Cómo estás?

FELIPE: Bien, gracias. Y usted, ¿cómo está, señora?

SEÑORA: Mal, Felipe, mal.

FELIPE: Lo siento.

MARTA: ¡Hola, Inés! ¿Qué tal? ¿Cómo estás?

INÉS: Regular, ¿y tú?

MARTA: Bastante bien, gracias.

- Use buenos días until lunchtime.
- Use buenas tardes from noon until nightfall. After nightfall, use buenas noches (good evening, good night).
- ¿Qué tal? is a more informal greeting. It is normally used with tú, but it may also be used with usted.
- Use está with usted and estás with tú.

P-2 Saludos. You work as a receptionist in a hotel. Which greeting (buenos días, buenas tardes, buenas noches) is appropriate at the following times?

- | | | |
|---------------|--------------|---------------|
| 1. 9:00 a.m. | 3. 4:00 p.m. | 5. 1:00 p.m. |
| 2. 11:00 p.m. | 4. 8:00 a.m. | 6. 10:00 p.m. |

Cultura

When saying Hello or good-bye and when being introduced, Spanish-speaking men and women almost always shake hands. When greeting each other, young girls and women often kiss each other on one cheek. This is also the custom for men and women who are close friends. In Spain they kiss on both cheeks. Men who are close friends normally embrace and pat each other on the back.

Native Spanish speakers also tend to stand physically closer to the person with whom they are talking than do English speakers.

Track 3

adiós	good-bye
hasta luego	see you later hasta mañana	see you tomorrow hasta pronto	see you soon
chao	good-bye

■ Adiós is generally used when you do not expect to see the other person for a while. It is also used as a greeting when people pass each other but have no time to stop and talk.

■ Chao (also spelled chau) is an informal way of saying good-bye. It is popular in South America.

P-3 Despedidas. How would you say good-bye in these situations?

1. You'll see your friend tomorrow.
2. You arrange to meet your classmate at the library in 10 minutes.
3. Your roommate is leaving for a semester abroad.
4. You run into a good friend on campus.

Expresiones de cortesía

Track 4

por favor	please
gracias	thanks, thank you
de nada	you're welcome lo siento	I'm sorry (to hear that) con permiso	pardon me, excuse me
perdón	pardon me, excuse me

■ Con permiso and perdón may be used before the fact, as when asking a person to allow you to go by or when trying to get someone's attention. Only perdón is used after the fact, as when you have stepped on someone's foot or have interrupted a conversation.

P-4 ¿Perdón o con permiso? Would you use perdón or con permiso in these situations?

3.

4.

5.

P-5 Despedidas y expresiones de cortesía. Which expression(s) would you use in the following situations?

adiós	gracias	lo siento
de nada	hasta luego	por favor

1. Someone thanks you.
2. You say good-bye to a friend you will see later this evening.
3. You ask if you can borrow a classmate's notes.
4. You hear that your friend is sick.
5. You receive a present from your cousin.
6. Your friend is leaving for a vacation in Costa Rica.

P-6 Encuentros (Encounters). You meet the following people on the street. Greet them, ask how they are, and then say good-bye. Switch roles and role play the encounters again.

- | | |
|------------------------------------|--------------------|
| 1. su (your) amigo Miguel | 3. su amiga Isabel |
| 2. su profesor/a | 4. su doctor/a |

• Distinguishing Registers

CD 1 Track 5 When you talk to different people, you use different registers, that is, you address them with various degrees of formality, depending on your level of intimacy and the context of the exchange. For example, when you talk to a professor, you probably use more formal language than when you talk to classmates or friends. In Spanish, one way to mark this difference is by using tú (informal) and usted (formal).

Now you will hear four brief conversations in which people greet each other. Before you listen, complete the following chart with the pronoun you think you would use in each case.

WHEN TALKING TO YOUR ...	TÚ	USTED
1. brother or sister
2. doctor
3. coach
4. parents

P-7 Conversaciones. As you listen to the four conversations, mark (✓) the appropriate column to indicate whether the greetings are formal (with usted) or informal (with tú). Do not worry if you do not understand every word.

- | | |
|----------|----------|
| FORMAL | INFORMAL |
| 1. _____ | _____ |
| 2. _____ | _____ |
| 3. _____ | _____ |
| 4. _____ | _____ |

g	ge	u	u
h	hache	v	ve, uve
i	i	w	doble ve, doble uve
j	jota	x	uve doble, ve doble
k	ka	y	equis
l	ele		i griega, ye
m	eme	z	zeta
n	ene
ñ	eñe

En otras palabras

Like English speakers, Spanish speakers have different accents that reflect their region or country of origin. For example, the letter c before vowels e and i and the letter z are pronounced like s, except in certain regions of Spain, where they are similar to the English th.

- The Spanish alphabet includes ñ, a letter that does not exist in English. Its sound is similar to the pronunciation of ni and ny in the English words onion and canyon.
- The letters k and w appear mainly in words of foreign origin.

P-8 ¿Cómo se escribe? Ask your classmate how to spell these Spanish last names.

MODELO: Zamora

E1: ¿Cómo se escribe Zamora?

E2: Con zeta.

1. Celaya
2. Montalvo
3. Salas

4. Bolaños
5. Henares
6. Velázquez

P-9 Los nombres. You are at the admissions office of a university in a Spanish-speaking country. Spell out your first or last name for the clerk. Take turns.

MODELO: E1: ¿Cómo se llama usted?

E2: Me llamo David Robinson.

E1: ¿Cómo se escribe Robinson?

E2: ere-o-be-i-ene-ese-o-ene.

Identificación y descripción de personas

CARLOS: ¿Quién es ese chico?

SANDRA: Es Julio.

CARLOS: ¿Cómo es Julio?

SANDRA: Es romántico y sentimental.

LUIS: ¿Quién es esa chica?

QUIQUE: Es Carmen.

LUIS: ¿Cómo es Carmen?

QUIQUE: Es activa y muy seria. - active

- The verb ser is used to identify and describe.

Esa chica es Carmen. Ella es activa y muy seria.

Rodolfo es su amigo. Es atractivo.

- Here are the forms of ser you will be using in this chapter.

SER (to be)
yo	soy	I	am
tú	eres	you	are
usted	es	you	are
él, ella	es	he, she	is

- To make a sentence negative, place no before the appropriate form of ser. When responding negatively to a question, say no twice.
- | | | |
|----------------------|---|--------------------------------|
| Ella es inteligente. | → | Ella no es inteligente. |
| ¿Es rebelde? | → | No, no es rebelde. |

Cognados

Cognados (cognates) are words from two languages that have the same origin and are similar in form and meaning. Since English and Spanish have many cognates, you will discover that you already recognize many Spanish words. Here are some cognates that you may use to describe people.

- The following cognates use the same form to describe a man or a woman.

arrogante	importante	optimista	popular eficiente	independiente	paciente	responsable
elegante	inteligente	perfeccionista	sentimental
idealista	interesante	pesimista	tradicional

- The following cognates have two forms. The -o form is used to describe a male, and the -a form to describe a female.

activo/a	creativo/a	introvertido/a	romántico/a ambicioso/a	dinámico/a	moderno/a	serio/a atlético/a	extrovertido/a	nervioso/a	sincero/a atractivo/a	generoso/a	pasivo/a	tímido/a cómico/a	impulsivo/a	religioso/a	tranquilo/a

- Some words appear to be cognates but do not have the same meaning in both languages. These are called false cognates. Lectura (reading) and éxito (success) are examples. You will find other examples in future chapters.

P-10 ¿Cómo es mi compañero/a? Choose from the preceding lists of cognates to ask the person next to you about his/her personality.

- MODELO: E1: ¿Eres pesimista?
E2: No, no soy pesimista. O Sí, soy (muy) pesimista.

Then find out how your classmate describes himself/herself.

- MODELO: E1: ¿Cómo eres (tú)?
E2: Soy activo, optimista y creativo.

P-11 Descripciones. Ask each other about your classmates. Describe them by using cognates from the preceding lists.

- MODELO: E1: ¿Cómo es... ?
E2: Es...

¿Qué hay en el salón de clase?

P-12 Identificación. With a partner, identify the items on this table.

P-13 Para la clase de español. Write down a list of the things you need for this class. Compare your list with that of your partner.

¿Dónde está?

■ To ask about the location of a person or an object, use dónde + está.

¿Dónde está la profesora? Está en la clase.

¿Dónde está el libro? Está sobre el escritorio.

P-14 Localización. PRIMERA FASE. Indicate whether each statement is true (Cierto) or false (Falso), based on the relative position of people and objects in the drawing.

CIERTO	FALSO
--------	-------

1. El televisor está detrás de la profesora. _____
2. Juan está al lado de la profesora. _____
3. El libro está sobre el escritorio. _____
4. María está entre Mercedes y Juan. _____
5. Mercedes está enfrente de la ventana. _____
6. El cesto está debajo de un pupitre. _____

SEGUNDA FASE. Now complete the following sentences, based on the relative position of people and objects in the drawing. Compare your answers.

1. La pizarra está _____ la profesora.
2. María está _____ la profesora.
3. Mercedes está _____ Juan y María.
4. Juan está _____ Mercedes.
5. El cesto está _____ Juan.
6. El televisor está _____ la pizarra y la puerta.

Listening with Visuals

CD 1
Track 8 When you are talking with someone, paying attention to the pictures or objects that the speaker points to or refers to can help you understand what is being said. These objects may be around you, or they may not, in which case you have only a mental representation of them. For example, when a friend describes his/her Spanish classroom, an image of a classroom comes to your mind based on your experience as a student.

In Spanish, make a list of the people and objects you expect to see in a classroom.

Now, as you listen to the statements about the location of people and objects, look at the drawing of the classroom on page 12 to help you understand what the speakers are saying.

Indicate (✓) whether each statement is true (Cierto) or false (Falso).

	CIERTO	FALSO
1.	_____	_____
2.	_____	_____
3.	_____	_____
4.	_____	_____
5.	_____	_____
6.	_____	_____

P-15 En la clase. Look at the seating chart below, and then follow the instructions.

María	Juan	Ester	Susana	Pedro
Carlos	Cristina	Ángeles	Alberto	Anita
Mercedes	Victoria	Roberto	Rocío	Pablo
El profesor Gallegos

ESTUDIANTE 1: Ask where Juan, Pedro, Cristina, Mercedes, Roberto, and Pablo are sitting.

ESTUDIANTE 2: Ask where María, Ester, Susana, Carlos, Ángeles, Alberto, Anita, Victoria, Rocío, and Profesor Gallegos are sitting.

P-16 ¿Dónde está? Take turns asking where several items in your classroom are. Answer by giving their position in relation to a person or another object.

MODELO: E1: ¿Dónde está el libro?
E2: Está sobre el escritorio.

P-17 ¿Quién es? Based on what your partner says regarding the location of another student, guess who he/she is.

MODELO: E1: Está al lado de Juan. ¿Quién es?
E2: Es María.

Los números 0 a 99

8	ocho	19	diecinueve	80	ochenta
9	nueve	20	veinte	90	noventa
10	diez	21	veintiuno

- Numbers from sixteen through twenty-nine are usually written as one word. Note the spelling changes and the written accent on some forms.

18: dieciocho

22: veintidós

- Beginning with thirty-one, numbers are written as three words.

31: treinta y uno

45: cuarenta y cinco

- The number one has three forms in Spanish: uno, un, and una. Use uno when counting: uno, dos, tres... Use un or una before nouns: un borrador, una mochila, veintiún libros, veintiuna mochilas.

- Use hay for both there is and there are.

Hay un libro sobre la mesa.

There is one book on the table.

Hay dos libros sobre la mesa.

There are two books on the table.

P-18 ¿Qué número es? Your instructor will read a number from each group. Circle the number you hear. Then compare your responses with those of your partner.

CD 1
Track 10

enero	January	mayo	May	septiembre	September
febrero	February	junio	June	octubre	October
marzo	March	julio	July	noviembre	November
abril	April	agosto	August	diciembre	December

Days of the week and months of the year are not generally capitalized in Spanish, but sometimes they are capitalized in advertisements and invitations.

- Monday (lunes) is normally considered the first day of the week.
- To ask what day it is, use ¿Qué día es hoy? Answer with Hoy es...
- To ask about the date, use ¿Qué fecha es? or ¿Cuál es la fecha? Respond with Es el (14) de (octubre).
- Express on + a day of the week as follows:

el lunes	on Monday
los lunes	on Mondays
el domingo	on Sunday
los domingos	on Sundays

- Cardinal numbers are used with dates (e.g., el dos, el tres), except for the first day of the month, which is el primero. In Spain the first day is also referred to as el uno.

Lengua

When dates are written using only numerals, the day normally precedes the month: 11/8 = el 11 de agosto.

P-22 ¿Qué día de la semana es? Using the preceding calendar, take turns asking ¿Qué día de la semana es...?

- | | |
|----------|----------|
| 1. el 2 | 5. el 10 |
| 2. el 5 | 6. el 13 |
| 3. el 22 | 7. el 28 |
| 4. el 18 | 8. el... |

P-23 Preguntas. Take turns asking and answering these questions.

1. ¿Qué día es hoy?
2. Hoy es... ¿Qué día es mañana?
3. Hoy es el... de... ¿Qué fecha es mañana?
4. ¿Hay clase de español los domingos? ¿Y los sábados?
5. ¿Qué días hay clase de español?

P-24 Fechas importantes. Working with a partner, tell each other the dates on which these events take place.

3. el banquete (1/3)
4. la graduación (22/5)
5. la fiesta de bienvenida (24/8)

P-25 El cumpleaños (birthday). Find out when your classmates' birthdays are. Write their names and birthdays in the appropriate space in the chart.

MODELO: E1: ¿Cuándo es tu cumpleaños?
 E2: (Es) el 3 de mayo.

CUMPLEAÑOS
enero	febrero	marzo	abril
mayo	junio	julio	agosto
septiembre	octubre	noviembre	diciembre

Lengua

You may have noticed that the word tú (meaning you) has a written accent mark, and that the word tu (meaning your) does not. In Mosaicos, boxes similar to this one will help you focus on when to use accent marks. You will find a complete set of the rules for accentuation in the appendix.

Cultura

In Spanish-speaking countries, events such as concerts, shows, classes, and professional meetings generally begin on time. Medical appointments are also kept at the scheduled hour. However, informal social functions, such as parties and private gatherings, do not usually begin on time. In fact, guests are expected to arrive at least a half hour after the appointed time. When in doubt, you may ask ¿En punto? to find out whether you should be punctual.

La hora

- Use ¿Qué hora es? to inquire about the time. To tell time, use Es la... from one o'clock to one thirty and Son las... with the other hours.

Es la una.

It is one o'clock.

Son las tres.

It is three o'clock.

- To express the quarter hour, use y cuarto or y quince. To express the half hour, use y media or y treinta.

Es la una y media.
} Es la una y treinta.

It is one thirty.

Son las dos y cuarto.
} Son las dos y quince.

It is two fifteen.

- To express time after the half hour, subtract minutes from the next hour, using menos.

Son las cuatro menos diez.

It is ten to four.

- Add en punto for the exact time and más o menos for approximate time.

Es la una en punto.

It is one o'clock on the dot/sharp.

Son las cinco menos cuarto, más o menos.

It is about a quarter to five.

- For a.m. and p.m., use the following:

de la mañana (from midnight to noon)

de la tarde (from noon to nightfall)

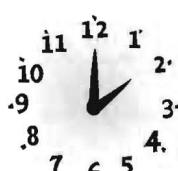

de la noche (from nightfall to midnight)

P-26 ¿Qué hora es en...? What time is it in the following cities?

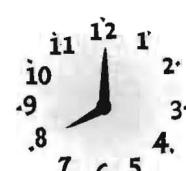

México, p.m.

San Juan, p.m.

Buenos Aires, p.m.

Madrid, p.m.

Lengua

To ask the time at which an event takes place or something happens, use ¿A qué hora es...? To answer, use Es a la(s)... or simply A la(s)...

¿A qué hora es la clase de español?
At what time is Spanish class?
(Es) a las nueve y media.
It is at 9:30.

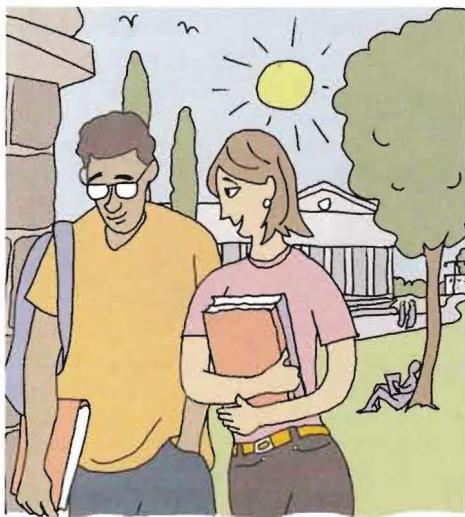

P-27 El horario de María. Take turns asking and answering questions about María's schedule below. Then write down your own Monday schedule, omitting the time each class meets. Exchange schedules with your partner, and find out what time each of his/her classes starts.

MODELO: E1: ¿A qué hora es la clase de español?

E2: Es a las nueve.

10:00	la clase de matemáticas	1:00	la clase de física
11:00	la clase de psicología	5:00	la clase de tenis
12:00	el laboratorio

El tiempo

Hoy hace sol. Hace buen tiempo.

Hoy llueve. Hace mal tiempo.

- Use ¿Qué tiempo hace? to inquire about the weather. To answer, you may use the following expressions that start with hace:

Hace buen tiempo. The weather is good.
Hace mal tiempo. The weather is bad.

- To express that it is sunny or that it is raining use the following:

Hace sol. It is sunny.
Llueve./Está lloviendo. It is raining.

P-28 ¿Qué tiempo hace hoy? Take turns with your partner asking about the weather in these cities.

c. toros.
5. ___ En la plaza de toros hay espectáculos (shows)...
a. religiosos.
b. cómicos.
c. populares.

A PRIMERA VISTA

Los estudiantes y los cursos

CD 1 Track 19 Me llamo Rosa Pereda. Estudio sociología en la Facultad de Humanidades de la Universidad de Salamanca. Mis clases son muy temprano. Llego a la universidad a las ocho y media. Este semestre mis cursos son economía, ciencias políticas, psicología, antropología y estadística. La clase de economía es mi favorita. La clase de antropología es difícil, pero el profesor es muy bueno. La clase de psicología es fácil y muy interesante. Por las tardes trabajo en una oficina.

CD 1 Track 20

Este chico es mi amigo. Se llama David Thomas. Es norteamericano y estudia español en mi universidad. También estudia literatura, historia y geografía. David es un chico muy responsable y estudioso. Generalmente llega a la universidad a las diez. Habla español y practica todos los días con sus compañeros de clase, sus profesores y sus amigos de la universidad. Por la tarde, escribe sus tareas en la computadora, estudia en el laboratorio con uno de sus compañeros y escucha música o mira programas en español en la televisión.

Cultura

Some of Spain's public universities, such as the Universidad de Salamanca, the Universidad de Santiago, and the Universidad Complutense de Madrid, are among the oldest in Europe, dating back hundreds of years. Most private universities in Spain, which are much newer, have higher tuition. To be accepted to a university students take a competitive comprehensive exam, known as Selectividad. Many universities offer Spanish language and culture courses for foreign students.

1-1 ¿Qué sabe usted de Rosa? Refer to the information about Rosa to match the information in the right column with the information on the left.

- | | |
|---|-----------------|
| 1. <input type="checkbox"/> nombre completo | a. antropología |
| 2. <input type="checkbox"/> universidad | b. psicología |
| 3. <input type="checkbox"/> clase favorita | c. Salamanca |
| 4. <input type="checkbox"/> clase difícil | d. economía |
| 5. <input type="checkbox"/> clase fácil | e. Rosa Pereda |

1-2 ¿Y David? Indicate whether each statement about David is true (Cierto) or false (Falso).

1. Es norteamericano.
2. Habla español.
3. Estudia literatura, historia y geografía.
4. Llega a la universidad a las nueve.
5. Practica español con sus amigos.
6. Escucha música por la mañana.

La Universidad de San Marcos, en Lima, Perú, se fundó en 1551.

Cultura

The first universities in Latin America were founded by the Spaniards in the 16th century: the Universidad de Santo Tomás de Aquino in Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic; the Universidad de San Marcos in Lima, Peru; and the Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México (UNAM) in Mexico City.

David y Carmen hablan de sus clases

Track 21

DAVID: Hola, Carmen. ¿Cómo estás?

CARMEN: Hola, David. ¡Cómo te va?

DAVID: Bueno...bastante bien, pero mi clase de historia es muy difícil.

CARMEN: ¿Quién es tu profesor?

DAVID: Se llama Pedro Hernández. Es inteligente y dedicado, pero la clase es aburrida y saco malas notas.

CARMEN: ¡Vaya! Lo siento. ¿Estudias lo suficiente?

DAVID: Estudio mucho.

CARMEN: ¡Qué lástima! Mis cinco clases son excelentes. Y tú, ¿cuántas clases tienes?

DAVID: Tengo sólo cuatro.

CARMEN: ¡Uy! Son las once. Tengo un examen de economía ahora. Hasta luego.

DAVID: Hasta pronto. ¡Buena suerte!

1-3 ¿En qué clase...? Match the words on the left with the appropriate class on the right.

- | | |

| 1. ___ Don Quijote de Cervantes | a. geografía |
| 2. ___ números | b. biología |
| 3. ___ mapa digital | c. literatura |
| 4. ___ animales | d. historia |
| 5. ___ Freud | e. matemáticas |
| 6. ___ Napoleón | f. psicología |

Cultura

Miguel de Cervantes Saavedra (1547–1616) was a Spanish novelist and playwright. He was born in Alcalá de Henares, a town near Madrid. His famous novel Don Quijote de la Mancha is one of the most important books in the history of world literature. It is a parody of the romances of chivalry, which were very popular at that time. The main character is Alonso Quijano, an older man who has read too many of those romances and has come to believe that he is a heroic knight. He dubs himself “Don Quijote de la Mancha” and sets off to fight injustice.

En otras palabras

Words related to computers and computing are often borrowed from English (e.g., software, e-mail), and they vary from country to country. As you have already learned, one word for computer is la computadora, used mainly in Latin America, along with el computador. Computer is el ordenador in Spain. Computer science is la informática in Spain and la computación in Latin America.

1-4 Mis clases. PRIMERA FASE. Make a list of your classes. Indicate the days and time each class meets and whether it is easy or difficult, interesting or boring. You will find some subjects in the list below.

economía	comunicaciones	negocios
bioquímica	sociología	historia del arte
física	cálculo	informática
artes plásticas	estadística	seminario de...
contabilidad	astronomía	filosofía

CLASE	DÍAS	HORA	¿CÓMO ES?

SEGUNDA FASE. Tell your partner about your classes. Take turns completing the following ideas.

1. Llego a la universidad a la(s)...
2. Mi clase favorita es...
3. El profesor/La profesora se llama...
4. La clase es muy...
5. Practico español en...
6. En mi clase de español hay...

1-5 Las clases de mis compañeros/as. PRIMERA FASE. Use the following questions to interview your partner. Take notes. Then switch roles.

1. ¿Qué estudias este semestre?
2. ¿Cuántas clases tienes?
3. ¿Cuál es tu clase favorita?
4. ¿Qué día y a qué hora es tu clase favorita?
5. Tu clase de español, ¿cómo es? ¿Es fácil o difícil? ¿Es interesante o aburrida?
6. ¿Trabajas con computadoras? ¿Dónde?
7. ¿Sacas buenas notas?
8. ¿Tienes muchos exámenes?

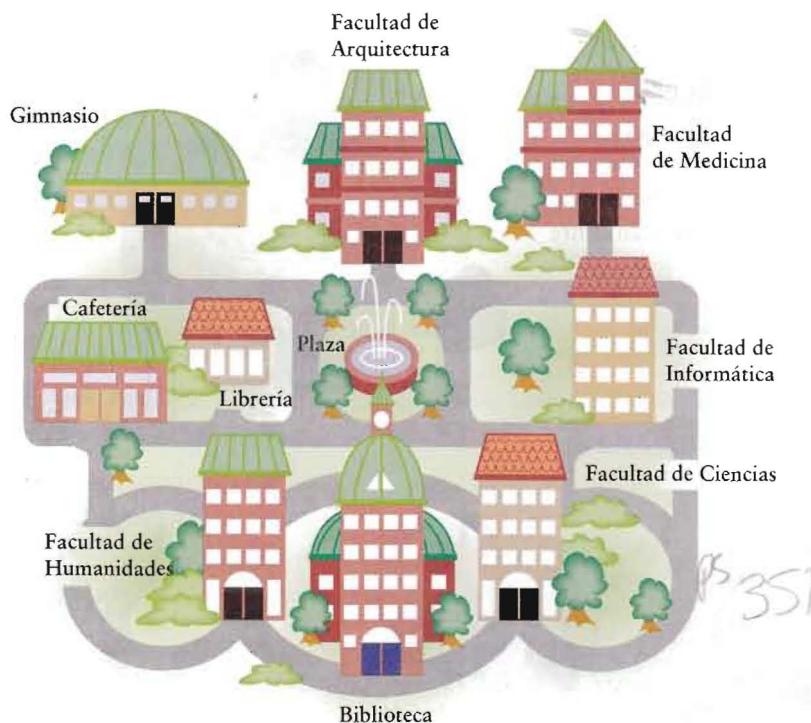

SEGUNDA FASE. Introduce your partner to another classmate and state one piece of interesting information about him/her. Your classmate will ask your partner about his/her classes.

MODELO: USTED: Él es Pedro. Estudia ciencias políticas y tiene cuatro clases este semestre.

SU COMPAÑERO/A: Mucho gusto. ¿_____?

ESTUDIANTE: Necesito comprar un diccionario para mi clase de literatura española.

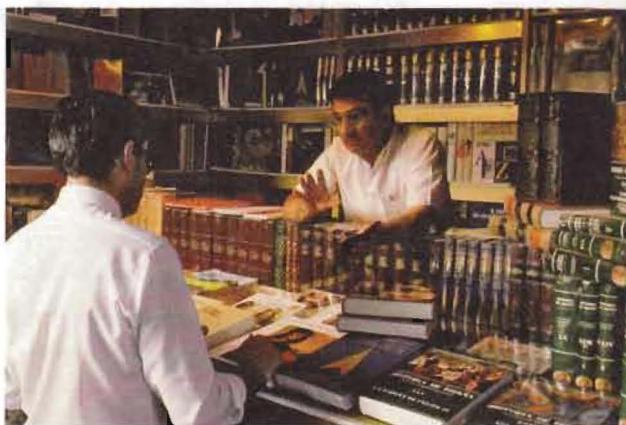

DEPENDIENTE: ¿Grande o pequeño?

ESTUDIANTE: Grande, y todo en español.

DEPENDIENTE: Este diccionario es muy bueno.

ESTUDIANTE: ¿Cuánto cuesta?

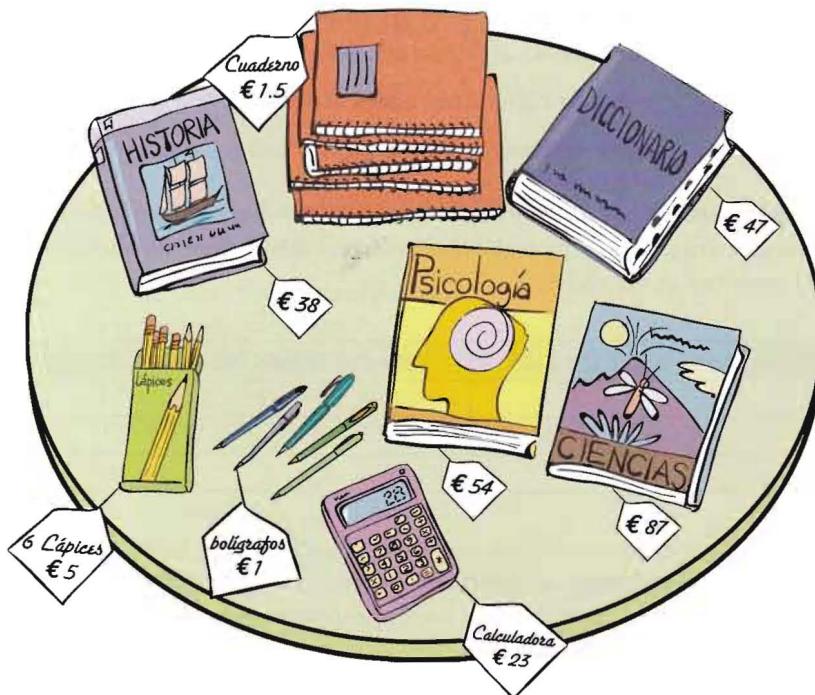

DEPENDIENTE: Cuarenta y ocho euros.

1-9 ¿Qué necesita? Complete the following statements, based on the previous conversation.

1. El estudiante necesita...
2. Es un diccionario...
3. Es para su clase de...
4. El diccionario cuesta...

1-10 ¿Cuánto cuesta? During your semester abroad, you go to the university bookstore. Ask the salesclerk how much the following items cost.

Cultura

Since 2002, the euro has been the official monetary unit of the so-called Eurozone, which includes (as of January 2008) Austria, Belgium, Cyprus, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, Malta, the Netherlands, Portugal, Slovenia, and Spain. In some other European countries and the United Kingdom, the euro, although not official, is accepted in stores. The euro currency sign is € and the banking code is EUR.

MODELO:

ESTUDIANTE: ¿Cuánto cuesta el mapa?

DEPENDIENTE/A: Cuesta cincuenta euros.

1-11 Entrevista (Interview). Ask where and when your classmate does each of the following activities.

MODELO: practicar baloncesto (basketball)

E1: ¿Dónde practicas baloncesto? ¿Y cuándo?

E2: Practico baloncesto en la plaza por las tardes.

ACTIVIDAD	DÓNDE	CUÁNDO
1. estudiar para un examen difícil
2. mirar televisión
3. tomar café/chocolate
4. bailar salsa
5. escuchar música
6. comprar un diccionario/CDs/materiales para tus clases

1-12 Las actividades de sus compañeros. PRIMERA FASE. Go around the classroom and interview three people. Ask two different questions of each of them. Take notes to report later. Answer the questions of classmates who interview you.

1. ¿Qué haces (do you do) los fines de semana?
2. ¿Dónde miras televisión?
3. ¿Qué compras en la librería?
4. ¿Dónde estudias normalmente?
5. ¿Trabajas los fines de semana? ¿Dónde trabajas?

SEGUNDA FASE. Now share your classmates' answers with the rest of the class.

MODELO: María estudia normalmente en casa. No trabaja los fines de semana.

1-13 ¿Qué hacen? (What do they do?) You will hear three people talking about their activities during the week and on weekends. Before you listen, list Track 26 your own activities in the chart.

MIS ACTIVIDADES DE TODOS LOS DÍAS	MIS ACTIVIDADES DEL FIN DE SEMANA

Now pay attention to the general idea of what is said in the recording. As you listen, decide which activities each person is talking about. Then write the number of the speaker (1, 2, 3) next to the appropriate topic.

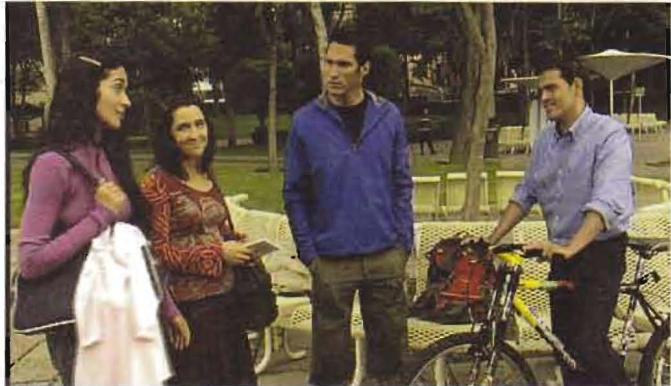

- ___ los estudios
 ___ el tiempo libre (free time)

SARA: Y los fines de semana montamos en bicicleta.

REPORTERO: ¡Qué interesante! Gracias, señoritas.

Piénselo. Check (✓) all the statements that are true, based on the reporter's interview with Sara and Marta.

1. Pablo es un reportero de radio.
2. Marta y Sara practican muchos deportes (sports).
3. Marta participa en maratones.
4. Marta practica el fútbol.
5. Sara practica el baloncesto.
6. Sara y Marta montan en bicicleta.

- To talk about actions, feelings, and states of being, you need to use verbs. In both English and Spanish, the infinitive is the base form of the verb that appears in vocabulary lists and dictionaries. In English, infinitives are preceded by to: to speak. Infinitives in Spanish belong to one of three groups, depending on whether they end in -ar, -er, or -ir. Verbs ending in -ar are presented here, and verbs ending in -er and -ir are presented in the next section.

HABLAR (to speak)
yo	hablo	nosotros/as	hablamos
tú	hablas	vosotros/as	habláis
él, ella, Ud.	habla	ellos, ellas, Uds.	hablan

- Use the present tense to express what you and others generally or habitually do or do not do. You may also use the present tense to express an ongoing action. Context will tell you which meaning is intended.

Ana trabaja en la oficina. Ana works in the office.
Ana is working in the office.

Luis practica el piano todos los días. Luis practices the piano every day.

- Here are some expressions you may find useful when talking about the frequency of actions.

siempre	always	muchas veces	often todos los días/meses	every day/month	a veces	sometimes
todas las semanas	every week	nunca	never

- Some common -ar verbs are bailar, buscar, caminar, comprar, conversar, escuchar, estudiar, llegar, mirar, montar, necesitar, participar, practicar, sacar, tomar, and trabajar.

1-17 Preferencias. PRIMERA FASE. Rank these activities from 1 to 9, according to your preferences (1 = most interesting, 9 = least interesting).

SEGUNDA FASE. Now, based on a typical day in her life, describe Luisa's personality. Then explain what you normally do on a regular day.

SITUACIONES

- Role A. Your friend works in the afternoon. Ask a) where he/she works; b) the days of the week and the hours that he/she works; and c) if the job (trabajo) is interesting/boring/difficult/easy. Then answer your friend's questions about your job.

Role B. Tell your friend that you work in the afternoon. Answer your friend's questions about your job. Then ask three questions about his/her job (trabajo).

- Role A. You need to read Don Quijote de la Mancha by Miguel de Cervantes for your World Literature class, so you go to the university library. Tell the librarian that you need a book, and answer the librarian's questions about title (título) and author (autor).

Role B. You are a librarian at the university library. A student tells you that he/she needs a book. Ask the title of the book (¿cuál es el título?) and the author (autor). Comment on the book.

Cultura

A social activity popular with university students and others in Spain is ir de tapas (to go out for tapas). Tapas are small portions of different dishes that are served in most bars with wine or beer. They range from a piece of bread with an anchovy to elaborate appetizers.

Este bar de Madrid tiene una selección de tapas deliciosas.

2. Talking about academic life and daily occurrences: Present tense of regular -er and -ir verbs

REPORTERO: Y ustedes, ¿qué hacen durante el día?

PEDRO: Antonio estudia ciencias en la universidad. Asiste a sus clases y luego corre al laboratorio, donde trabaja todos los días. Habla con el profesor y aprende mucho. Los estudiantes de ciencias leen mucho, escriben trabajos de investigación y sacan buenas notas. Yo soy un estudiante de arquitectura, y mis compañeros y yo leemos y escribimos mucho también. Yo casi (almost) vivo en la biblioteca cuando estudio para los exámenes.

Piénselo. Check (✓) all the statements that are true, based on the reporter's interview with Pedro.

1. Antonio estudia arquitectura.
2. Antonio trabaja en el laboratorio y aprende (learns) mucho.
3. Los estudiantes leen y escriben mucho.
4. Antonio no asiste (attends) a sus clases.
5. Los estudiantes de ciencias sacan buenas notas.
6. Pedro estudia arquitectura.
7. Pedro vive (lives) en el laboratorio.

■ You have learned in this chapter that the present tense is used to express activities and ongoing actions. You have also learned the present tense forms for verbs whose infinitives end in -ar. Now you will learn those forms for verbs whose infinitives end in -er and -ir.

■ Note that -er and -ir verbs have the same endings, except for the nosotros/as and vosotros/as forms.

APRENDER (to learn)

yo	aprendo	nosotros/as	aprendemos
tú	aprendes	vosotros/as	aprendéis
él, ella, Ud.	aprende	ellos, ellas, Uds.	aprenden

VIVIR (to live)

yo	vivo	nosotros/as	vivimos
tú	vives	vosotros/as	vivís
él, ella, Ud.	vive	ellos, ellas, Uds.	viven

- Other common -er and -ir verbs are comer (to eat), comprender, correr, leer, responder (to respond), asistir, and escribir.
- The verb ver (to see) has an irregular yo form: veo, ves, ve, vemos, veis, ven.
Veo películas los fines de semana. I see movies on weekends.
- Use deber + infinitive to express that you should/must/ought to do something.
Los atletas deben beber mucha agua. Athletes should drink lots of water.

1-22 Mi profesor/a modelo. PRIMERA FASE. Indicate which of the activities are part of the routine of an ideal instructor inside and outside the classroom.

SITUACIONES

1. Role A. You see a classmate at a coffee shop with laptop and books spread out on the table. Ask if he/she a) drinks coffee every day; b) often studies in the coffee shop; c) reads the newspaper there; and d) writes on the computer in the coffee shop.

Role B. You are sitting at a table with your laptop and books at your favorite coffee shop. A classmate comes in and walks over. Answer your classmate's questions about what you usually do there.

2. Role A. On the way to Spanish class you run into a classmate and ask how he/she is. Your classmate confides that he/she isn't getting good grades in Spanish. Suggest that he/she a) should always attend class; b) must read the chapter every week; c) should study in the library; and d) ought to look for a good dictionary.

Role B. In the hallway you run into the person who sits next to you in Spanish class. When he/she asks how you are, say you're so-so. Explain that you are not getting good grades in Spanish and that you are not learning the vocabulary. Listen to your classmate's advice and thank him/her.

1-25 A preguntar. PRIMERA FASE.

Find four different classmates, each of whom does one of the following activities. Write each name in the chart below.

MODELO: ver películas en casa

E1: ¿Ves películas en casa?

E2: Sí, veo películas en casa./ No, no veo películas en casa.

PERSONA

ACTIVIDAD

asistir a conciertos de música rock beber café todos los días vivir en casa con la familia escribir mensajes de texto por la noche

SEGUNDA FASE. Now report to the class your findings about your classmates' activities.

1-26 ¿Qué deben hacer? Read the situations in the column on the left and select the best advice from the column on the right.

1. ___ Maricela desea sacar buenas notas.
2. ___ Carlos corre en el parque.
3. ___ Luisa y Jorge están (are) muy nerviosos.

Gender

■ Nouns are words that name a person, place, or thing. In English all nouns use the same definite article, the, and all singular nouns use the indefinite articles a and an. Spanish nouns, whether they refer to people or to things, have either masculine or feminine gender. Masculine singular nouns use el or un and feminine singular nouns use la or una.

The terms masculine and feminine are used in a grammatical sense and have nothing to do with biological gender.

MASCULINE	FEMININE
SINGULAR DEFINITE ARTICLES	el
SINGULAR INDEFINITE ARTICLES	un la una
	a/an

- Generally, nouns that end in -o are masculine and require el or un, and those that end in -a are feminine and require la or una.

el/un libro	el/un cuaderno	el/un diccionario
la/una mesa	la/una silla	la/una ventana

- Nouns that end in -dad, -ción, -sión are feminine and require la or una.

la/una universidad	la/una lección	la/una televisión
---------------------------	-----------------------	--------------------------

- Nouns that end in -ma are generally masculine.

el/un programa	el/un problema
el/un drama	el/un poema

- In general, nouns that refer to males are masculine, and nouns that refer to females are feminine. Masculine nouns ending in -o change the -o to -a for the feminine; those ending in a consonant add -a for the feminine.

el/un amigo	la/una amiga
el/un profesor	la/una profesora

- Nouns ending in -ante and -ente may be feminine or masculine. Gender is signaled by the article (el/la estudiante).

- Use definite articles with titles when you are talking about someone. Do not use definite articles when addressing someone directly.

La señorita Andrade es la secretaria en el Departamento de Lenguas Europeas. El profesor Campos es el director del departamento.

Ms. Andrade is the secretary in the Department of European Languages. Professor Campos is the chair of the department.

Todos los días, el profesor Campos dice “Buenos días, señorita Andrade”. Ella contesta, “Buenos días, profesor Campos”.

Every day, Professor Campos says “Good morning, Ms. Andrade.” She responds, “Good morning, Professor Campos.”

Number

PLURAL DEFINITE ARTICLES los	FEMININE las
PLURAL INDEFINITE ARTICLES unos	unas

- Add -s to form the plural of nouns that end in a vowel. Add -es to nouns ending in a consonant.

la silla → las sillas	el cuaderno → los cuadernos
la actividad → las actividades	el señor → los señores

- Nouns that end in -z change the z to c before -es.

el lápiz → los lápices

- To refer to a mixed group, use masculine plural forms.

los chicos the boys and girls

1-27 Conversaciones incompletas.

Complete the dialogues.

1. Supply the definite articles (el, la, los, las).

E1: ¿Dónde está María?

E2: Está en la clase de la profesora Sánchez.

E1: ¡Qué lástima! Necesito hablar con ella. Es urgente.

E2: Bueno, ella está en el salón de clase hasta la una, y por la tarde trabaja en el laboratorio.

E1: ¿Y a qué hora llega?

E2: Llega a los dos, más o menos.

2. Supply the indefinite articles (un, una, unos, unas).

E1: Necesito comprar un calculadora y unas lápices. unos

E2: Y yo necesito un bolígrafo y un diccionario, pero ¿qué diccionario compro?

E1: Para el curso de español, una profesores usan un diccionario pequeño y otros usan un diccionario grande. ¿Por qué (Why) no hablas con tu profesor?

3. Supply the definite or indefinite articles.

E1: Tengo un examen de matemáticas mañana y necesito sacar una buena nota en esa clase.

E2: ¿Quién es el profesor?

E1: Es la doctora Solís.

E2: ¡Ah! Es la profesora excelente.

E1: Sí, pero la clase es muy difícil. Estudio y escribo los tareas todos los días, pero no saco buenas notas.

E2: ¡Vaya! Lo siento mucho.

1-28 ¿Qué necesitan?

Take turns saying what these classmates need.

MODELO: Alicia tiene que buscar unas palabras. Necesita un diccionario.

1. Mónica tiene que tomar apuntes en la clase de historia.
2. Carlos y Ana deben hacer la tarea de matemáticas.
3. Alfredo tiene que estudiar para el examen de geografía.
4. Isabel tiene que escribir una composición para su clase de inglés.
5. Blanca y Lucía tienen que encontrar (find) dónde está Salamanca.
6. David tiene que escuchar una canción (song) para su clase de música.

SITUACIONES

1. Role A. You have missed the first day of class. Ask a classmate a) at what time the class meets; b) who the professor is; and c) what you need for the class.

Role B. Tell your classmate a) that the class is at 8:00 in the morning; b) the name of the professor and what he/she is like; and c) at least three items that your classmate needs for the class.

2. Role A. You work for the student newspaper at your college and have been asked to interview two students to find out how they typically spend their weekends. After introducing yourself, find out a) if they work, and where; b) what they study; and c) what they do (hacen) on Saturdays and Sundays.

Roles B, C. Tell the interviewer a) if you work and, if so, where; b) the classes you take; and c) what you do on weekends, where, and with whom.

4. Expressing location and states of being: Present tense of estar

ELISA: ¿Humberto? Te habla Elisa.
 HUMBERTO: ¡Elisa! ¡Qué sorpresa! ¿Dónde estás?
 ELISA: Estoy en el aeropuerto de Barajas, en Madrid.
 ¿Y tú?
 HUMBERTO: Mi padre y yo estamos de vacaciones en Nueva York. En este momento, mi padre está en la tienda Best Buy. ¿Y cómo están todos en tu familia?
 ELISA: Todos estamos muy bien. ¡Qué bueno escucharte! Lo siento, Humberto, pero el vuelo (flight) sale (leaves) pronto. Hablamos más mañana. Adiós.

Pínselo. Indicate whether each statement is true (Cierto) or false (Falso), based on the conversation. If it is Falso, correct the information.

1. Humberto está en el aeropuerto.
2. Elisa está de vacaciones en Nueva York.
3. Humberto está en una ciudad grande con una persona de su familia.
4. La tienda Best Buy de esta conversación está en Madrid.
5. Elisa y Humberto están contentos de hablar por teléfono.

■ You have already been using some forms of estar. Here are all the present tense forms of this verb.

ESTAR (to be)
yo	estoy	nosotros/as	estamos
tú	estás	vosotros/as	estáis
Ud., él, ella	está	Uds., ellos, ellas	están

■ Use estar to express the location of persons or objects.

¿Dónde está Humberto?

Where is Humberto?

Está en Nueva York.

He is in New York

■ Use estar to talk about states of health or being.

¿Cómo está la familia de Elisa?

How is Elisa's family?

Está muy bien.

They are very well.

1-29 En la cafetería. In the cafeteria, you run across a former classmate. Complete the conversation, using the correct forms of estar. Then indicate in the parentheses if estar signals location (L) or a state of being (S).

ROBERTO: Hola, Carlos. ¿Qué tal? ¿Cómo estas? (S)
 CARLOS: estoy muy bien. ¿Y tú? (S)
 ROBERTO: Muy bien, muy bien. ¿Y cómo estas? tu hermana (sister)
 Ana? (S)
 CARLOS: Bien, gracias. Ella y mamá están en España ahora. (L) ROBERTO: ¡Qué suerte! Y nosotros vivimos en la universidad, ¡y en la semana de exámenes! (S)

1-30 Horas y lugares favoritos. PRIMERA FASE. Ask your classmate his/her favorite time of day or day of the week. Then ask where he/she usually is at that time or on that day.

MODELO: E1: ¿Cuál es tu hora favorita del día?
 E2: Las 10:00 de la mañana.
 E1: Generalmente, ¿dónde estás a las 10:00 de la mañana?
 E2: Estoy en.... ¿Y cuál es tu hora favorita?

3. Marcelo Eduardo

SITUACIONES

1. Role A. As editor of the new student handbook, you must give the graphic designer directions for drawing the campus map. First draw a rough sketch of the map, including the places below. Then explain their location to the designer.

la biblioteca

la cafetería

la Facultad de Ciencias

la Facultad de Humanidades

Role B. You are a graphic designer. Ask questions about the location of these buildings as you draw the new map. When you have finished, show the map to the editor to check if you have understood his/her explanations.

2. Role A. You are a new student at the university and you do not know where the gym is. Introduce yourself to a classmate. Explain that you want to run in the gym and ask where it is located. Thank your classmate for the help (Gracias por la ayuda).

Role B. A new student will greet you and ask questions. Make your answers as complete and specific as possible.

5. Asking and answering questions: Interrogative words

Andrea Pérez conversa con su consejera (advisor) en la universidad. La consejera necesita llenar (fill out) algunos formularios con información sobre Andrea. Aquí están algunas de las preguntas de la consejera y en la columna de la derecha, las respuestas de Andrea.

CONSEJERA

- ¿Cómo se llama la residencia estudiantil donde vives?
- ¿Dónde está?
- ¿Cuándo son tus clases?
- ¿Cuánto cuesta tu transporte por mes?
- ¿Quién es tu compañera de cuarto?
- ¿Por qué deseas (want to) estudiar psicología?

ANDREA

- Se llama Casa Cervantes.
- Está en la Avenida España.
- Por la mañana y por la tarde.
- Aproximadamente 35 euros.
- Cristina Zapatero.
- Para ayudar (help) a otras personas.

Piénselo. Match Andrea's responses in the left column with the questions her advisor asked her in the right column. OJO: You will be able to answer some of the advisor's questions with the information from the conversation above.

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1. <input type="checkbox"/> Es el profesor Agustín Reyes-Torres. | a. ¿Dónde vives? |
| 2. <input type="checkbox"/> Se llama Cristina Zapatero. | b. ¿Cuándo es tu clase de psicología? |
| 3. <input type="checkbox"/> En la Casa Cervantes. | c. ¿Quién es tu profesor favorito? |
| 4. <input type="checkbox"/> 400 euros al mes. | d. ¿Cómo se llama tu compañera de cuarto? |
| 5. <input type="checkbox"/> Por la tarde. | e. ¿Cuánto cuesta vivir en la residencia? |

- Interrogative words are used to ask questions or to obtain specific information. You have already been using many of these words.

¿cómo?	how/what?
¿dónde?	where?
¿qué?	what?
¿cuándo?	when?
¿por qué?	why?

¿cuál(es)?	which?
¿quién(es)?	who?
¿cuánto/a?	how much?
¿cuántos/as?	how many?
¿para qué?	why?/what for?

- If a subject is used in a question, it normally follows the verb.

¿Dónde trabaja Elsa? Where does Elsa work?

- Use por qué to ask why and porque to answer because.

¿Por qué está Pepe en la biblioteca? Why is Pepe at the library?

Porque necesita estudiar. Because he needs to study.

- Use qué + ser when you want to ask for a definition or an explanation.

¿Qué es la sardana? What is the sardana?

Es un baile típico de Cataluña. It is a typical dance of Catalonia.

Lengua

All question words have a written accent over the stressed syllable: cómo, dónde.

When these words are used in a non-interrogative context, they do not have a written accent.

¿Dónde está la biblioteca?
Where is the library?

Esta es la biblioteca donde estudio todos los días.

This is the library where I study everyday.

- Use cuál(es) + ser when you want to ask which one(s).

¿Cuál es tu mochila?

Which (one) is your backpack?

¿Cuáles son tus papeles?

Which (ones) are your papers?

- Questions that may be answered with sí or no do not use a question word.

¿Trabajan ustedes los sábados?

Do you work on Saturdays?

No, no trabajamos.

No, we do not.

- Another way to ask a question is to place an interrogative tag after a declarative statement.

Tú hablas inglés, ¿verdad?

You speak English, don't you?

David es norteamericano, ¿no?

David is an American, isn't he?

1-32 Preguntas. First look at the cues in the right column and then complete the questions with quién, cuándo, cuántos/as, cuál, or por qué, as logical. Use your questions to interview two people as you walk around the room.

1. ¿ _____ clases tomas? Tomo...
2. ¿ _____ son tus clases? Por la...
3. ¿ _____ es tu clase favorita? La clase de...
4. ¿ _____ es tu profesor/a favorito/a? El profesor/La profesora...
5. ¿ _____ estudias español? Porque...
6. ¿ _____ estudiantes hay en tu clase de español? Hay...

1-33 Entrevista. Ask your classmate questions to find out the following information. Use the appropriate expressions to show disbelief, coincidence, how interesting the answers are, and so on.

1. número de clases que toma este semestre
2. su clase favorita y razón (y por qué)
3. número de alumnos en la clase favorita
4. nombre del profesor favorito/de la profesora favorita
5. lugar donde estudia generalmente y cuántas horas estudia por (per) día
6. lugar donde trabaja

Lengua

To request repetition or clarification of a statement, use ¿Cómo? or ¿Perdón? The use of ¿Qué?, the equivalent of English What?, is generally considered rude by native speakers.

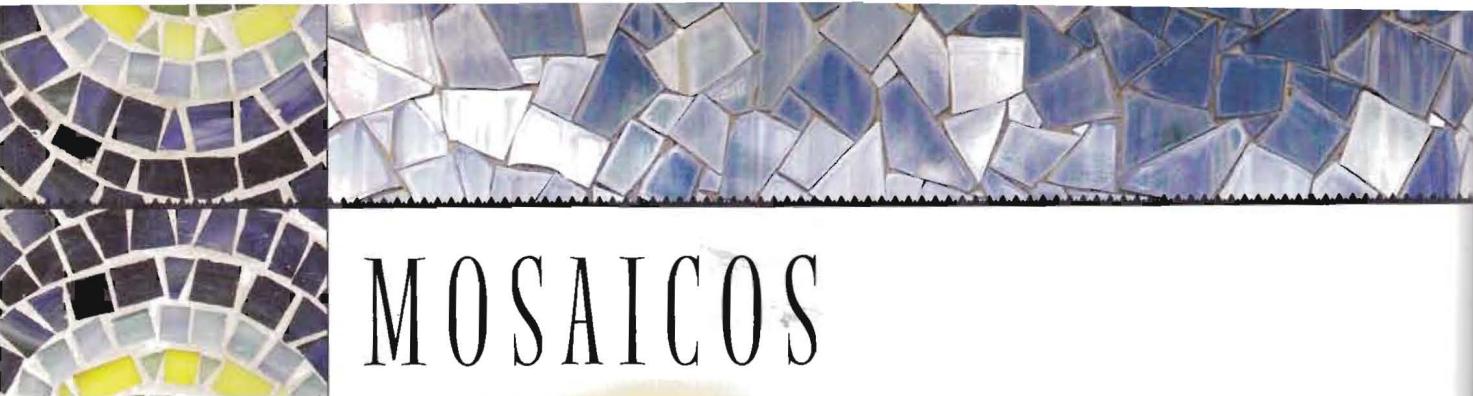

SITUACIONES

1. Role A. You have just run across a friend you have not seen all year. Inquire about your friend's life in college including a) the location and size of his/her college/university; b) courses this semester; and c) his/her activities.

Role B. You are talking with a friend you have not seen in a long time. Answer your friend's questions about your life in college. Then ask your friend some questions to get the same information.

2. Role A. It is the beginning of the term, and you need to add a psychology class. One of your friends is in a class that looks promising. Ask a) who the professor is; b) if there is a lot of homework; c) when the class meets; and d) if there is an exam soon. Then ask if you should know (saber) anything else (algo más) about the class.

Role B. Your friend wants some information about your psychology class. Reply as specifically as possible to all of his/her questions. Then offer some additional information about the class.

ESTRATEGIA

Listen for the gist

When you are having a conversation or are listening to other people talking in your native language, you may get the gist of what is said without understanding every word or paying attention to every detail. You do this by relying on what you do understand, your knowledge of the topic, and your subconscious expectations of what happens in a conversational exchange. You will find these techniques helpful when listening to Spanish.

Antes de escuchar

1-34 Preparación. You will hear two students talking about their classes. Before listening to the recording, think about the topics they may talk about and make a list of the things you may expect to hear, based on your experience as a student.

Escuchar

CD 1
Track 27

1-35 ¿Comprende usted? First read the following statements. Then listen to the conversation between Ana and Mario and indicate whether each statement is true (Cierto) or false (Falso).

1. Mario y Ana estudian en la misma (same) universidad este semestre.
2. Mario toma clases de ciencias y de humanidades.
3. Ana lee en la biblioteca para sus clases.
4. Ana toma clases por la tarde.
5. Mario realmente visita otros países en una de sus clases.

Después de escuchar

1-36 Ahora usted. Tell your classmate what you usually do on the following days and times. Your classmate will take notes. Then switch roles. Finally, verify with each other that the notes you took are correct.

A conversar

Ask questions to gather information

Asking questions is a good way to get information, and it is also a way to make conversation, because most people like to talk about themselves. To ask questions, you need to remember question words and common phrases, like ¿Cómo es...?, ¿Cuánto cuesta...?, ¿Dónde...?, ¿Qué...?, and ¿Quién...?.

ESTRATEGIA

Antes de conversar

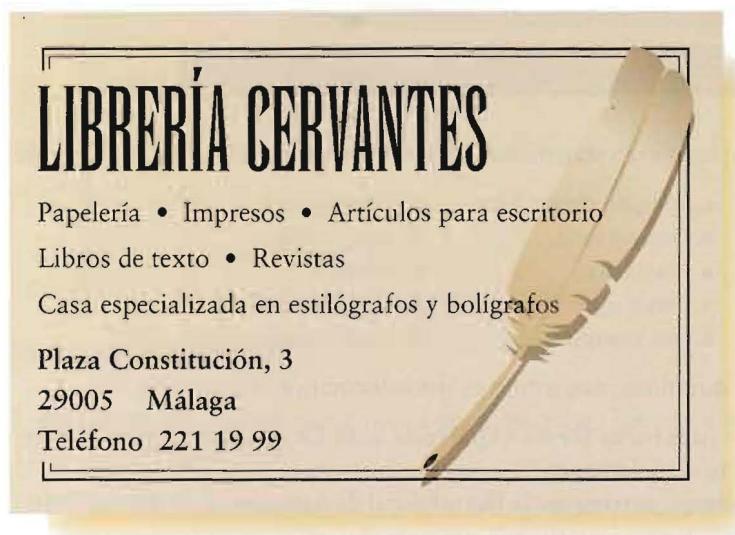

1-37 Preparación. Write the questions answered by the clerk at your campus bookstore.

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____

La dirección de la librería es Calle Mayor, número 50.
 Sí, tengo libros de historia de España en español.
 Sí, tengo diccionarios en español.
 El diccionario bilingüe cuesta 40 euros.

Conversar

1-38 Entre nosotros. You are a Spaniard studying in Málaga. Your American friend would like to purchase some gifts to take home: a fancy pen, a book on the history of Spain, a Spanish dictionary, and a map of Spain. Read the following ad and call the bookstore to find out if it has what your friend needs. Your classmate will play the role of the bookstore clerk. Remember to follow the formalities of phone conversations with someone you do not know.

En directo

To answer the phone in Spain:

¿Diga?

To greet someone formally:

Buenos días./Buenas tardes.

To ask if they have what you need:

Necesito/Busco un/una...

Después de conversar

1-39 Un poco más. Call your American friend to explain whether the bookstore has each item he/she needs and the price.

ESTRATEGIAIdentify the format of a text

Even before you start to read, you may draw on your experience with reading texts of different types to support your comprehension. Visual cues, photographs, type size, and the layout will help you make educated guesses about the content and meaning of the text.

A leerAntes de leer

1-40 Preparación. Indicate which courses from the list students in the following majors (carreras) should take.

| 4. La información de esta página web es... | a. muy específica.
b. muy general. |
| 5. Esta institución tiene... | a. un campus.
b. más de un campus. |

1. Al final (the bottom) de esta página web hay varias teclas (keys). ¿Qué tecla usan los estudiantes para conversar con personas que trabajan en la Universidad de Salamanca?
2. Imagínese que usted necesita información sobre su carrera en la Universidad de Salamanca. ¿Qué facultad tiene la información que usted necesita?

Después de leer

1-43 Ampliación. Explore the Servicio Central de Idiomas page on the Universidad de Salamanca website by following the link on the Mosaicos web page and answer the questions that accompany the link. Be prepared to share your answers with the rest of the class.

A escribir

Antes de escribir

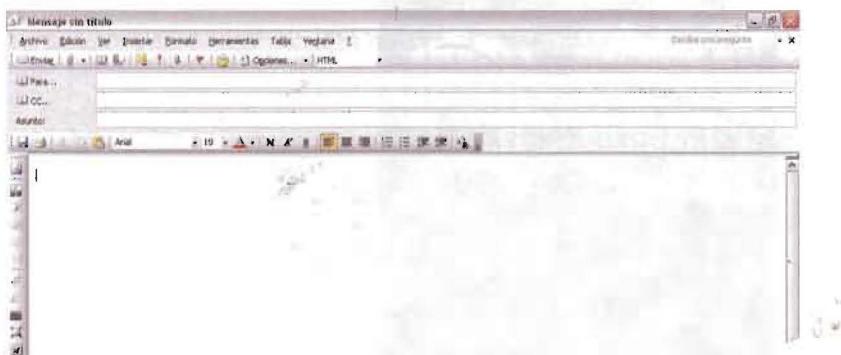

1-44 Preparación. As part of the course work in your Spanish class, you have been asked to correspond by e-mail with a university student in Spain. Think about and write down the information you would like to include in your first e-mail. Brainstorm...

1. some basic questions that this Spanish student may have about your college life.
2. some words and ideas that will help you answer those questions.
3. the order in which you will organize these ideas.

Escribir

1-45 Manos a la obra. Now write the Spanish student an e-mail about life at your college or university. Use the information you gathered in Preparación. Consider including the following points, if you have not already listed them.

1. introducing yourself
2. telling how things are going for you
3. describing your school and your classes: class number and names, when you are taking them, how interesting (or not) your classes and professors are
4. describing your daily routine at school, what you do after classes and on weekends, where and with whom you do these activities, and so on

Después de escribir

1-46 Revisión. After writing your e-mail, you may discuss it with a classmate. Then go over it carefully.

1. Make sure you have provided all the information your Spanish friend may need or any other you deem necessary. Pay attention to the content of your message and to the order in which you presented the information.
2. Revise any errors in language use, spelling, punctuation, accentuation, and so on.
3. Finally, make any changes that will help make your email clear and comprehensible to your e-mail pen pal.

ESTRATEGIA

Brainstorm key ideas before writing

Brainstorming stimulates your creativity and helps you access your ideas. To brainstorm, make a note on a blank paper or computer screen of an idea or perspective you may want to emphasize. List words and ideas that will answer any questions that may arise.

Then organize them in the order in which you will use them in your text.

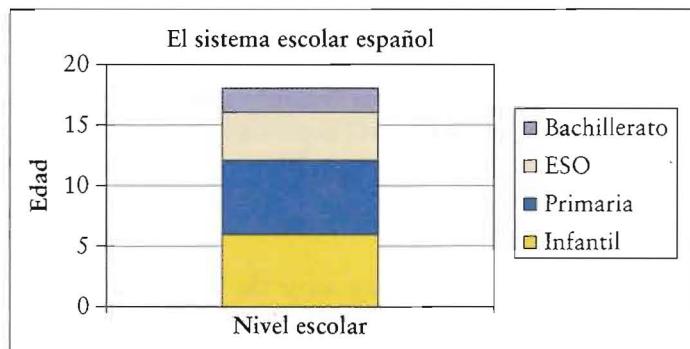

Thinking ahead and jotting down key words and ideas before you start to write your first draft is useful. It helps you think logically, focus on the topic, and put ideas in your own words.

ENFOQUE CULTURAL

Escuelas y universidades en España

El sistema escolar español es diferente del sistema de Estados Unidos y está dividido en cuatro partes: Educación Infantil, Educación Primaria, Educación Superior Obligatoria y, finalmente, el Bachillerato. En España, los niños y niñas hacen la Educación Infantil (que no es obligatoria sino voluntaria) hasta los seis años. Después empiezan la Educación Primaria, que es obligatoria y dura seis cursos, de los seis a los doce años de edad.

Entre los doce y los dieciséis años, los niños y niñas españoles cursan la Escuela Superior Obligatoria (ESO). La ESO completa la escolaridad obligatoria, pero muchos españoles continúan estudiando dos años más para terminar el Bachillerato, que los prepara para continuar con los estudios universitarios.

Expresiones españolas

Let's go out for tapas!

¡Me han catedado!

They've flunked me!

Ella es muy maja.

She's a very nice person.

I'll call you later, OK?

¿Dónde está ese chaval?

Where is that kid?

En España hay muchas universidades. La Universidad de Salamanca es una de las más antiguas del mundo y una de las más importantes de Europa. Esta universidad tiene un excelente programa de español para extranjeros y sus cursos de verano (durante junio, julio y agosto) tienen mucho prestigio.

De otra parte, la Universidad Complutense de Madrid es la más grande de España y también es muy antigua. Tiene un campus muy grande que se llama Ciudad Universitaria. Este nombre es muy apropiado, porque tiene más de 100.000 estudiantes.

El fútbol es un deporte muy popular en España.

En general, en las universidades españolas los estudiantes practican muchos deportes, pero la competencia entre universidades no es tan intensa como en Estados Unidos. Los deportes más populares entre los estudiantes universitarios españoles son el fútbol, el baloncesto y el atletismo, pero muchos estudiantes practican otros deportes también.

Los estudiantes universitarios españoles, como los de Estados Unidos, se divierten bailando en discotecas y clubes. Pero la música que escuchan no es necesariamente igual. A los jóvenes españoles les gusta escuchar música de rock en español. Hay muchos grupos de rock españoles. "El canto del loco" y "Fito y Fitipaldi" son dos grupos de rock español muy populares. A muchos jóvenes también les gusta bailar el flamenco, la música tradicional de Andalucía. En Sevilla, por ejemplo, hay clubes donde sólo tocan sevillanas, una música típica de esta ciudad. Finalmente, en su tiempo libre, muchos estudiantes españoles van de tapas y, por ejemplo, la Ciudad Universitaria está cerca de muchos bares de tapas.

Note to Student

In each chapter, the reading in Enfoque cultural is followed by two activities, Comprensión and Use la información. You have the option of doing Comprensión here or visiting the Mosaicos web page and following the link to that activity to download the worksheet.

1-47 Comprensión. PRIMERA FASE. Reconocimiento de palabras clave. Find in the text the Spanish word or phrase that best expresses the meaning of the following concepts:

preschool _____ middle school _____

high school _____ summer school _____ soccer _____

track _____

dance _____

SEGUNDA FASE. Oraciones importantes. Underline the statements that contain ideas found in the text. Then indicate where in the text those ideas appear.

1. Some Spanish students finish school at sixteen, while others continue with their education until they are eighteen.
2. Kindergarten is compulsory in Spain at the age of six.
3. Spanish universities are mostly private institutions.
4. The University of Salamanca has a long history.
5. The University of Madrid is so big that it is like a small city in itself.
6. Spanish universities offer their students the opportunity to practice sports.
7. Fito and Fitipaldi are two famous Spanish Formula drivers.
8. Many Spanish students enjoy dancing to traditional Spanish music.

TERCERA FASE. Ideas principales. Write a brief paragraph in English summarizing the main ideas expressed in the text.

1-48 Use la información. Prepare a poster to present to the class comparing what you have learned about the educational system of Spain to that of your own country. Use visuals to illustrate the different stages of the educational system, a few of the oldest and most important universities, and some of the activities that are popular with students in their free time.

Mis amigos y yo

Yo soy/Myself, por Cristina Cárdenas, una pintora norteamericana de origen mexicano

In this chapter you will learn how to:

- describe people, places, and things
- state where and when events take place
- express origin and possession
- express likes and dislikes

Cultural focus: Estados Unidos

A vista de pájaro. Using the map and photos, as well as what you may already know, provide the following facts about Hispanics.

1. Tres hispanos famosos
2. El grupo hispano más numeroso en Estados Unidos
3. La ciudad (city) en Estados Unidos con más puertorriqueños
4. El estado con más mexicanos
5. Un producto hispano
6. Un tipo de música latina

A PRIMERA VISTA

Mis amigos y yo

¿Quiénes somos?

Track 35

Me llamo Mario Quintana. Soy de Puerto Rico y tengo veintidós años. Me gusta escuchar música y mirar televisión. Estudio en una universidad de Nueva York y deseo ser profesor de historia. Los chicos en estas fotografías son mis amigos. Ellos también son hispanos y estudian en la universidad. Todos somos bilingües.

Esta chica es Amanda Martone. Es alta, delgada y morena. Tiene los ojos de color café y el pelo negro y muy largo. Amanda es una chica muy agradable. Estudia mucho y desea ser economista. Su familia es dominicana, pero vive en Estados Unidos.

Cultura

Puerto Rico was a Spanish colony for almost four centuries until it was ceded to the United States following the Spanish-American War in 1898. Puerto Rico is a freely associated commonwealth (estado libre asociado) of the United States, and its people have been U.S. citizens since 1917. Most Puerto Ricans on the mainland live in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and Illinois also have large Puerto Rican communities. However, Puerto Rico remains geographically and culturally part of Latin America and almost all of its residents speak Spanish as their primary language. English is also widely spoken. Being bilingual opens doors to better economic opportunities in Puerto Rico and on the mainland.

Esta chica se llama Ana Villegas. No es alta ni baja. Es de estatura mediana y usa lentes de contacto. Es pelirroja y tiene los ojos oscuros. Ana es callada, trabajadora y muy inteligente. Sus padres son cubanos.

Este chico se llama Ernesto Fernández. Ernesto es moreno y tiene los ojos castaños y el pelo corto. Es bajo, fuerte, muy conversador y simpático. Le gusta usar la computadora para conversar con sus amigos de aquí y de México.

Esta chica es Marta Chávez Conde. Es española y tiene veintiún años. Es rubia, tiene los ojos azules y es muy divertida. Este año está en Estados Unidos con su familia.

2-1 Asociaciones.

To whom do the descriptions on the left refer?

1. ___ Tiene el pelo largo.
 2. ___ Tiene veintidós años.
 3. ___ Es de España.
 4. ___ Es bajo y fuerte.
 5. ___ Usa lentes de contacto.
 6. ___ Habla mucho.
 7. ___ Tiene los ojos de color café.
 8. ___ Tiene el pelo negro y es muy agradable.
 9. ___ Tiene los ojos azules y el pelo rubio, es muy divertida.
 10. ___ Desea ser profesor de historia.
- a. Mario Quintana
 - b. Amanda Martone
 - c. Ernesto Fernández
 - d. Ana Villegas
 - e. Marta Chávez Conde

2-2 ¿Quién es? PRIMERA FASE.

Read the texts on pages 56–57 again and write a list of at least eight expressions that you may use to describe people, including physical appearance (apariencia) and personality traits (personalidad).

SEGUNDA FASE. Now, without mentioning his/her name, describe a classmate in at least three sentences, using the vocabulary from the Primera fase, or any other that you may need. The rest of the group will try to guess who this person is. The group can ask questions if more information is needed to guess the student's identity.

MODELO: E1: Es de estatura mediana y delgado. Tiene el pelo negro. Es fuerte y callado.
E2: ¿Es... ?

2-3 ¿Qué me gusta?

Tell your classmate if you like each of the following activities. Then compare your responses.

comer en restaurantes italianos escribir correos electrónicos bailar los sábados por la noche estudiar español trabajar los fines de semana tomar café por la noche practicar tenis/fútbol/béisbol tener animales en casa

MODELO: estar en casa por las noches
E1: ¿Te gusta estar en casa por las noches?
E2: Sí, me gusta. /No, no me gusta.

Cultura

According to the 2000 census, one of every seven people in the United States is of Hispanic origin. With a population of 44,252,278, Hispanics account for 14 percent of the country's inhabitants. The Foundation of the Americas predicts that, by 2015, Hispanics will be the largest minority in the United States, numbering about 62.7 million. Although Hispanics can be found everywhere in the United States, most live in Los Angeles, New York, Miami, San Francisco, and Chicago. Mexicans constitute the largest Hispanic group, followed by Puerto Ricans and Cubans.

Lengua

Depending on the region or country, moreno/a or negro/a may be used to refer to African ancestry and skin color or to hair color. The word trigueño/a (from trigo, wheat) is used to describe light brown skin color. Corto/a generally refers to length (pelo corto), while bajo/a refers to height (Ella es baja).

Cultura

Hispanics in the United States come from countries all over the world. Some are recent immigrants, but others have roots here that go back centuries. For example, Mexicans were living in what is now Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado, Nevada, and California, among other places, long before those territories became part of the United States after the Mexican War (1846–1848). Puerto Ricans have been U.S. citizens since 1917.

2-14 At the end of the video segment, a new character appears. Write five sentences in Spanish describing her.

FUNCIONES Y FORMAS

1. Describing people, places, and things: Adjectives

The illustration shows four groups of people. On the left, three girls are sitting around a round table, reading books; they are described as intelligent and hard-working. In the center, a tall boy stands with his hands on his hips; he is described as tall and athletic. To the right, a girl walks alone; she is described as short and elegant. On the far right, three friends are walking together; they are described as sociable and active.

Eduardo es alto y atlético.

Adriana es baja y es muy elegante.

Ana, Patricia y Teresa estudian mucho. Son inteligentes y trabajadoras.

Carlos, Luis y Carmen son sociables y activos. Conversan y bailan mucho en los clubes.

Piénselo. Complete the descriptions of the people in the drawings by supplying their names.

1. _____ es joven y delgada.
2. _____, _____ y _____ son interesantes y estudiosas.
3. _____ es moreno y guapo.
4. _____, _____ y _____ son populares y activos.
5. _____ es colombiano.
6. _____, _____ y _____ son españolas.

- Adjectives are words that describe people, places, and things. Like articles (el, la, los, las) and nouns (chica, chicas; libro, libros), they generally have more than one form. In Spanish an adjective must agree in gender (masculine or feminine) and number (singular or plural) with the noun or pronoun it describes. Adjectives that describe characteristics usually follow the noun.
- Most masculine adjectives end in -o, and most feminine adjectives end in -a. To form the plural, these adjectives add -s.

	MASCULINE	FEMININE
SINGULAR	el chico alto	la chica alta
PLURAL	los chicos altos	las chicas altas

5. Hoy los niños están contentos. Van (They are going) al parque.
6. Roberto es estudioso y trabajador. Estudia mucho todos los días.

■ Ser and estar are often used with the same adjectives. However, the choice of verb determines the meaning of the sentence.

■ Ser + adjective states the norm—what someone or something is like.

Jorge es delgado. Jorge is thin. (He is a thin man.)

Sara es muy nerviosa. Sara is very nervous. (She is a nervous person.)

El libro es nuevo. The book is new. (It is a new book.)

■ Estar + adjective expresses a change from the norm, a condition, or how one feels about the person or object being discussed.

Jorge está delgado. Jorge is/looks thin. (He lost weight recently, or he looks thin in a picture or because of the clothes he is wearing.)

Sara está muy nerviosa. Sara is very nervous. (She is feeling nervous.)

El libro está nuevo. The book is/looks new. (It is used, but it seems like a brand new book.)

■ The adjectives contento/a, cansado/a, enojado/a are always used with estar.

■ Some adjectives have one meaning with ser and another with estar.

Ese señor está malo. That man is ill.

La chica es lista. The girl is clever/smart.

2-24 Termómetro emocional. PRIMERA FASE. Indicate (✓) how you feel in each situation. Then write two adjectives to further describe how you feel and how you think your classmate feels in these situations.

LUGARES	ABURRIDO/A	CONTENTO/A	TRANQUILO/A	NERVIOSO/A	YO	MI COMPAÑERO/A en la cafetería con mis compañeros en los exámenes finales en la oficina de un profesor/una profesora en un concierto con mis amigos en una fiesta formal en mi casa por la noche

SEGUNDA FASE. Now compare your responses with those of your partner and write down one similarity and one difference between the two of you. Report to the class.

- MODELO: en la clase de español
 E1: En la clase de español, yo estoy contento/a. Tú también estás contento/a en la clase de español, ¿verdad?
 E2: Tienes razón. Yo estoy contento/a. O Estás equivocado/a. Yo estoy aburrido/a.
 E1: [a la clase] Yo estoy contento/a en la clase de español, pero Amanda está aburrida.

SITUACIONES

1. Role A. You have traveled to another city for a job interview. A friend of a friend who lives in that city has offered to show you around. Make arrangements over the phone to meet this person, whom you do not know. Find out what the person looks like, so you will be able to spot him/her at your meeting place.
Role B. You have offered to get together with a friend of a friend who has a job interview in your city. You do not know this person, so when you arrange over the phone to meet, you have to find out what the person looks like and something about his/her personality, so you can decide what to show him/her.
2. Role A. Show your classmate a photo. Identify the people and explain what they are like. Then respond to your friend's questions and comments about them.
Role B. After your classmate tells you about the people in the photo, ask and comment about a) how they seem to be feeling, based on their facial expressions or what they are doing and b) where they appear to be.

4. Expressing ownership: Possessive adjectives

Mis amigos y yo

Condorito—the main character of the comic strip magazine of the same name—introduces some of his closest friends. Look at the group portrait to follow what he says.

Condorito y sus amigos

Mi nombre es Condorito. Soy un cóndor simpático, listo y sincero.

Yayita y su pequeña Sobrina (niece) Yuyito son mis dos grandes amores (sweethearts). La sobrina de Yayita es muy atractiva, pero es muy dependiente de su tía (aunt) y de su abuelo Don Tremendón. Nuestra relación es especial. Nosotros pasamos mucho tiempo juntos.

Mi sobrino (nephew) Coné es amoroso, pero un poco llorón (whiner). Su mejor amiga es Yuyito. La actividad favorita de ellos es comer chocolate y jugar en el parque. Finalmente, Doña Tremebunda es la madre de mi novia Yayita. Honestamente no me gusta mucho hablar con ella porque es muy materialista. También es dominante y ambiciosa. Y tu familia y amigos, ¿cómo son?

Cultura

Condorito, a comic strip created by the Chilean cartoonist René Ríos (Pepo), is popular throughout Latin America. The main character, Condorito, is an anthropomorphic condor who uses his wit, rather than his work or talents, to solve the problems of everyday life. The multifaceted Condorito, usually in black pants and red shirt, adopts new identities to tell the latest gossip in town. With his ability to transcend social class, nationality, and ideology, he can be a peasant, a scientist, or a beggar, an Egyptian or an Argentinian. The comic strip in which he appears portrays with humor the personality and struggles of the Chilean people. For more information go to the Mosaicos web page.

Piénselo. Complete the following statements, using the information in Condorito's description.

1. Condorito tiene una novia. ___ nombre es ____.
a. Tu... Yayita b. Mi... Doña Tremebunda c. Su... Yayita
2. Condorito dice (says): Nuestra relación es especial. ¿A qué relación se refiere Condorito en esta afirmación?
a. La relación de Condorito con Yayita y su familia.
b. La relación de Yayita con la familia de ella.
c. La relación entre Coné, Yayita, la familia de Yayita y él (Condorito).
3. Coné es ___ Condorito.
a. la hija de b. el sobrino de c. el hijo (son) de
4. Condorito prefiere no pasar tiempo con Doña Tremebunda. ¿Por qué?
a. por la apariencia física de ella b. por la personalidad de ella
c. por el hijo de ella

- Possessive adjectives modify nouns to express possession. They always precede the noun they modify.
- mi amigo tu familia

POSSESSIVE ADJECTIVES mi(s)	my
tu(s)	your (familiar)
su(s)	your (formal), his, her, its, their nuestro(s), nuestra(s)	our
vuestro(s), vuestra(s)	your (familiar plural)

- Possessive adjectives change number to agree with the thing possessed, not with the possessor.

mi clase, mis clases

- The nosotros/as and vosotros/as forms must agree also in gender.
nuestro profesor, nuestros amigos; nuestra profesora, nuestras amigas

- Su and sus have multiple meanings. To ensure clarity, you may use de + the name of the possessor or the appropriate pronoun instead of su/sus. For example, the multiple meanings of su compañera can be expressed as follows:

la compañera + { de ella (la compañera de Elena) de él (la compañera de Jorge) de usted de ustedes
de ellos (la compañera de Elena y Jorge) de ellas (la compañera de Elena y Olga)

En otras palabras

The word for car in Spanish varies, depending on the country or region. The most widely accepted word is el auto, commonly used in the southern half of South America. In Mexico, Central America, the Caribbean, and the northern countries of South America, el carro is frequently used. El coche is used in Spain.

2-25 Mi mundo (world). PRIMERA FASE. Write down two things that you own (pertenencias) and two people whom you value very much. You may use the words in the box or choose others.

Pertenencias:	un carro	una computadora portátil	un iPod

3. ___ Me gusta ser bilingüe.
4. ___ Me gustan las actividades al aire libre (open air).
5. ___ Me gusta el arte.

■ To express what you like to do, use me gusta + infinitive. To express what you don't like to do, use no me gusta + infinitive.

Me gusta hablar español.

I like to speak Spanish.

No me gusta mirar televisión.

I don't like to watch television.

Me gusta practicar deportes y salir con mis amigos.

I like to play sports and go out with my friends.

■ To express that you like something or someone, use me gusta + singular noun or me gustan + plural noun.

Me gusta la música clásica.

I like classical music.

Me gustan las personas alegres.

I like happy people.

■ To ask a classmate what he/she likes, use ¿Te gusta(n)...? To ask your instructor, use ¿Le gusta(n)...?

¿Te gusta/Le gusta tomar café?

Do you like to drink coffee?

¿Te gustan/Le gustan los chocolates?

Do you like chocolates?

■ To state what another person likes, use a + name of person + le gusta(n)... When you are talking about the preferences of more than one person, use a + name of person + les gusta(n)...

2-28 Mis preferencias. PRIMERA FASE. Mark (✓) your preferences in the following chart.

ACTIVIDAD	ME GUSTA MUCHO	ME GUSTA UN POCO	NO ME GUSTA
escribir correos electrónicos en español comer en restaurantes de comida mexicana
bailar salsa
escuchar música rock en español aprender sobre la cultura de otros países visitar lugares históricos

 SEGUNDA FASE. Now, compare your answers with those of a classmate. Share with the class one similarity and one difference between you and your partner in terms of your preferences.

 2-29 ¿Te gusta...? PRIMERA FASE. Ask if a classmate likes the following. Be sure to ask follow-up questions as appropriate.

- | | |
|--|-------------------------------------|
| 1. el gimnasio de la universidad | 4. los autos de este año |
| 2. los teléfonos celulares con conexión a Internet | 5. los animales |
| 3. la informática | 6. los conciertos de música clásica |

SEGUNDA FASE. Write a brief note to another classmate in which you share two pieces of information about yourself and two pieces of information you discovered about your partner.

2-30 ¿Qué te gusta hacer? PRIMERA FASE. Write down some questions that you would ask a classmate to find out the following:

1. what he/she likes to do in his/her free time
2. in what restaurant he/she likes to eat with his/her family

 SEGUNDA FASE. Interview two classmates and ask each of them the questions you prepared in the Primera fase. Compare their responses and be prepared to share with others your conclusions regarding how your classmates spend their time.

SITUACIONES

1. Role A: You are at a park where you hear someone giving Spanish commands to a dog. Break the ice and introduce yourself. Ask a) the person's name; b) the dog's name and age; and c) if the dog is friendly (manso). Compliment the dog (smart, strong, very pretty, etc.). Tell the person that you like dogs very much and that you also like cats. Answer the questions this person asks.

Role B: You are in the park training your dog and someone approaches. Answer this person's questions and ask if he/she has a dog, and if so, what it looks like. Say that you don't like cats because they are not active or fun. Finally, ask where this person is from and where he/she is studying Spanish.

2. Role A: You are at Panchero's, a Mexican restaurant. While you are waiting to be seated, you hear someone speaking Spanish to a child. Introduce yourself and ask the child's name and age. Compliment the parent on his/her beautiful child. Also ask the parent if he/she likes Panchero's and likes to eat at American restaurants like McDonald's.

Role B: You and your two-year-old daughter are waiting to be seated at Panchero's, a Mexican restaurant. Someone asks you about your child. React to the person's comments and answer his/her questions.

Describe a person

Descriptions are most effective when they are well organized. When describing a person, you may want to include demographic information (e.g., age, nationality/origin), physical characteristics, and personality traits. A well-organized description presents information by category, beginning with an introductory phrase to prepare your listener.

ESTRATEGIAS

Antes de conversar

Cultura

Mafalda is the name of a character in a comic strip of the same name created by the Argentinian cartoonist Quino. Extremely popular in the Spanish-speaking world, she is a six-year-old girl deeply concerned with political issues and world peace. Her naive yet sharp criticism of society has made her an icon for the defense of human rights. For more information go to the Mosaicos web page.

2-34 Preparación. Mafalda, like Condorito, featured earlier in this chapter, is a popular comic strip in the Spanish-speaking world. Go to the Mosaicos web page, choose one of the characters shown there, and read the description about him/her.

Conversar

2-35 Entre nosotros. Describe the physical characteristics and personality traits of the Mafalda character you read about in 2-34. Your partner will ask questions or comment as appropriate. Then switch roles.

Después de conversar

2-36 Un poco más. Find out about another popular comic character, like those mentioned in the Cultura box below, and tell the class about him/her.

En directo

To introduce information about physical characteristics:

En cuanto a lo físico,... / Físicamente, es...

To introduce information about personality:

Es una persona... / Tiene un carácter...

Cultura

Many Hispanics who emigrate to other countries maintain connections to their culture by reading and listening to music in Spanish. In areas with large Hispanic populations, Spanish-language newspapers and magazines are available.

These carry some of the many comic strips popular in the Hispanic world, including Mafalda (Argentina), Condorito (Chile), and Mortadelo y Filemón (Spain). You will find information about these comic strips on the Internet.

ESTRATEGIAS

Scan a text for specific information

When you read in Spanish, your goal should be to read for ideas, not for the meaning of every word. One way to read for ideas is to search for particular pieces of information that you think will be in the text. Often the comprehension questions after the text will help you decide what information to search for as you read. This approach to reading, called scanning, works best if you a) focus on the information you are seeking and b) read the text through quickly at least twice, looking for specific information each time.

Antes de leer

2-37 Preparación. PRIMERA FASE. Read the title of the text and examine its format. (This is the reading strategy you learned in Capítulo 1.) What type of text is it?

1. a series of e-mail messages
2. personal ads
3. ads for items for sale

SEGUNDA FASE. Scan the text and use your highlighter to mark the following information in each paragraph.

1. el nombre de la persona
2. la edad (age) de la persona
3. la dirección electrónica de la persona

Leer

2-38 Primera mirada. Read the personal ads that follow and scan them for the information needed in the form. In some cases, it may not be possible to provide all the information requested.

ESTRATEGIAS

Consider audience and purpose

Writing is an act of communication between writer and reader. Writers usually have a purpose in mind, such as compiling information, informing the reader, describing something or someone, or expressing a point of view. Readers rely on their prior knowledge and on the quantity and quality of information presented to derive meaning from the text.

As you write, keep in mind your purpose and make the necessary adjustments to form and content to facilitate your audience's comprehension of the message.

Antes de escribir

2-40 Preparación. PRIMERA FASE. Read the following ad written by a movie fan in your local Spanish-language newspaper.

Fanático del cine necesita amigos para discutir películas los fines de semana. Tengo 24 años y estudio cinematografía. Me fascinan las películas de acción y también las románticas. Soy fuerte, activo, atlético y aventureño. Me gusta practicar deportes, especialmente el tenis y el esquí. Siempre estoy muy ocupado, pero tengo unas horas todas las semanas para conversar sobre películas y hacer deportes. Interesados, favor de enviar correo electrónico a fanaticodelcine@yahoo.com.

SEGUNDA FASE. You decide to respond to the ad. First, think about the following questions and mark (✓) your responses accordingly.

1. What is the purpose that fanaticodelcine has in mind when he writes the e-mail?
 - a. ___ to find a girlfriend
 - b. ___ to find someone (male or female) to talk with about movies
2. What would your purpose be if you responded to his personal ad?
 - a. ___ to share your interest in movies with someone who is knowledgeable about the topic.
 - b. ___ to date fanaticodelcine

TERCERA FASE. Now jot down information that will help you meet the goal of becoming the conversation partner of fanaticodelcine.

1. your age
2. your place of origin
3. words (adjectives) that describe you physically
4. expressions (adjectives) that describe your personality
5. activities (verbs) that you like to do that may match the needs of the person in the ad

Escribir

2-41 Manos a la obra. Write an e-mail to fanaticodelcine using the information you prepared in the Tercera fase of 2-40.

Para: _____

Asunto: Anuncio

Hola, _____

Respondo a tu anuncio del periódico. (Provide your name.)

Primero, aquí tienes alguna información personal. (Provide personal information.)

En segundo lugar, estas son algunas de las actividades que, al igual que tú, yo hago en mi tiempo libre. (Provide activities that you, like fanaticodelcine, like to do in your free time.)

En tercer lugar, los fines de semana... (Tell what you like to do.)

Finalmente, deseo ser tu amigo/a. Por favor, escríbeme un correo electrónico a mi dirección:

Hasta pronto.

Después de escribir

2-42 Revisión. After writing your e-mail, read it again and check the following:

1. Did you include all the information fanaticodelcine needs? Do you think your information will be interesting to him?
2. Did you use punctuation correctly? Did you verify that there are no spelling or grammatical mistakes that may hinder communication?
3. Make any necessary changes that will make your e-mail clear and comprehensible to fanaticodelcine.

ENFOQUE CULTURAL

Los hispanos y la expansión de Estados Unidos

Inicialmente, Estados Unidos está formado por trece colonias de Inglaterra. Estas trece colonias ocupan principalmente el noreste y la región del Atlántico. Las trece colonias se independizan de Inglaterra en la larga y violenta Guerra de Independencia. George Washington es un líder muy importante de esta guerra. El 4 de julio de 1776, el Congreso Continental firma la Declaración de Independencia en Filadelfia y George Washington es el primer presidente de la nueva república.

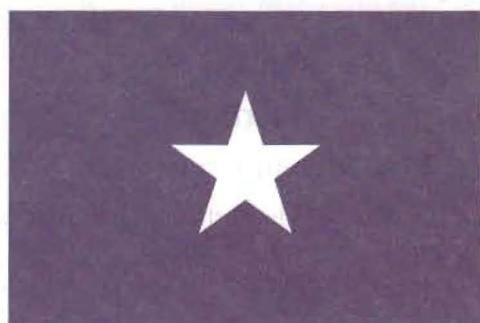

La expansión de Estados Unidos

Moneda de 25 centavos en honor de Luisiana, 2002

La primera expansión de las trece colonias hacia el oeste ocurre en 1803 durante la presidencia de Thomas Jefferson. En este año, el gobierno de Estados Unidos compra a Francia el inmenso territorio de Luisiana por 23 millones de dólares. Esta región ocupa unos 2.100.000 km². La compra de Luisiana incorpora todo el valle del Río Misisipi al territorio de Estados Unidos.

En 1810, el presidente James Madison anexa al territorio de Estados Unidos la región de Florida Occidental. Esta región está en la costa norte del Golfo de México y hoy pertenece a los estados de Luisiana, Misisipi, Alabama y Florida. Pero anteriormente, pertenece a España, Francia y también a Inglaterra. Durante un tiempo se llama la República Independiente de Florida Occidental. España disputa esta anexión, pero en 1819 acepta ceder todo el territorio de Florida, incluyendo la península de Florida.

Entre 1845 y 1853, Estados Unidos anexa extensos territorios mexicanos. La anexión de Texas en 1845 causa la guerra entre México y Estados Unidos. En 1848, México cede otra parte muy grande de su territorio, incluyendo partes de Texas, Colorado, Arizona, Nuevo México y Wyoming, además de toda la extensión de California, Nevada y Utah. En 1853 Estados Unidos compra un área adicional en la frontera de México y el presidente Franklin Pierce paga diez millones de dólares. Los habitantes mexicanos de estas regiones son los ancestros de muchos latinos de Estados Unidos.

El escudo de Puerto Rico tiene el símbolo de San Juan y la inscripción en latín: "Su nombre es Juan".

En 1898 Puerto Rico se convierte en un protectorado de Estados Unidos a causa de la guerra de Estados Unidos contra España. Los habitantes de Puerto Rico son ciudadanos de Estados Unidos desde 1917.

2-43 Comprensión. PRIMERA FASE. Reconocimiento de palabras clave. Find in the text the Spanish word or phrase that best expresses the meaning of the following concepts:

1. war _____
2. valley _____
3. ancestors _____
4. border _____
5. coat of arms _____
6. citizen _____

SEGUNDA FASE. Oraciones importantes. Underline the statements that contain ideas found in the text. Then indicate where in the text those words appear.

1. The colonies became independent after a long and violent war.
2. The Continental Congress signed the Declaration of Independence in Philadelphia.
3. George Washington was a good soldier, but a poor politician.
4. The purchase of the Mississippi Valley turned out to be a poor decision by President Jefferson.
5. Spain gave up its claim to Florida and West Florida without any resistance.
6. The United States and Mexico went to war over the annexation of Texas.
7. Puerto Ricans are citizens of the United States.

TERCERA FASE. Ideas principales. Write a brief paragraph in English summarizing the main ideas expressed in the text.

2-44 Use la información. Prepare an oral presentation describing the current flag or a historic flag of one of the states that has a Hispanic heritage. Consult the Mosaicos web page where you will find a worksheet and relevant links to collect information about the flag.
